Sanitary Board Votes Itself 27 Millions More

Bar Starts Inquiry on Pay Rolls.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The sanitary district trustees sold $2,000,000 in bonds on Monday and Tuesday voted to issue $27,000,000 more. In addition they will have the money to spend.

The board was in session, a finance reporter was examining a list of 214 persons employed to collect garbage. This, in the opinion of the trustees, was not a large number, because after they were paid $21,409 in salaries for a month, 44 of them were worked chasing mosquitoes at an additional cost for the half month period of $1,000. Some of the principal mosquito exterminators, the address, title, and salary of each, are listed in an annex.

1,000 Jobs Filled Out.

There was only one of the activities of the department officially named "Mosquitoes and Structures," which has contributed to the sanitary district's $2,544,588 excess of pay and expenditures over appropriations for a year and a half months of 1928. The trustees have virtually admitted to pay roll padding by discharging approximately 1,000 employees since the presidential election. Of these 1,000 were laid off on Nov. 10—four days after election—about 450 were on the pay roll on the day the trustees first requested a glance at the list—Nov. 15.

Sanitary district trustees acknowledged they still more fat in the pay roll books after they called a special meeting of the board for Nov. 22. The board was asked to request a glance at the list—Nov. 15.

Bar Starts Investigation.

Some of these acknowledgments of the trustees, and particularly of the district's heavy law pay roll, the board of trustees of the Chicago Bar association last night authorized appointment of a committee to investigate all public offices in Cook county. The committee is directed to ascertain whether members of each public office are delivering service for compensation received, and which members are delivering no service. It is not only to ascertain whether public officers are delivering service, but to make that public. Later it will be determined whether discipline other than public reprimand will be given lawyers who give little or no service for the pay they obtain.

Recommendations Asked.

Mr. J. Gorman, president of the bar association who was authorized to request the committee, asked the board of managers to submit recommendations as to its membership.

It is unfair to print in a list of public officers the names of the attorneys who give conscientious service," said Mr. Gorman after his meeting. The name of Charles W. Smith, an able and hard working lawyer, has been published with the names of sundry other lawyers of the bar.

Mr. J. Gorman already spent by the sanitary district's law department is more than four times as much as has been spent this year by the law department for the entire state of Illinois. The attorney general's total compensation for two years was only $100,000, of which $60,000 was for 1928. This is at the rate of $100,000 already spent this year by the sanitary board.

PAYNE WHITNEY 194 MILLIONS AN ESTATE RECORD

Will Reveals Scope of Vast Holdings.

(Picture on back page.)

New York, Nov. 22.—[Special.]—Deputy Tax Commissioner Maurice A. Stephenson placed on file at the transfer tax bureau this afternoon his appraisal of the estate of Payne Whitney—the richest in the forty-three years' history of the bureau and probably in the whole history of New York state. It likewise is the largest in the history of the nation; larger than Carnegie's or any of the Vanderbilts' estates, or Mrs. Russell Sage's or E. J. Harriman's.

The gross value is fixed at $194,328,514 and the net at $178,893,655.

These figures overshadow by nearly 100 millions the previous high mark set by the estate of Annie S. Harkness of $107,000,000 gross.

Millions to State's Coffers.

Estate and transfer taxes of roughly $15,000,000—the highest on record—will be payable to New York state alone, it is estimated, and the federal tax to be levied on the Whitney estate may exceed $20,000,000, of which 10 per cent, or about $16,000,000, will go to New York state.

More than $45,000,000 is to be distributed among charities, libraries, and institutions of learning.

The largest bequest to an institution was an endowment of $18,632,176 for New York hospital, which with Cornell university medical school is planning a new medical center here. The Cornell medical school got a bequest of $2,323,057.

Yale university, Mr. Whitney's alma mater, received a similar amount, while Groton school at Groton, Mass., where he prepared for college, got $1,129,222. The New York public library was bequeathed $6,210,725.

Widow Gets Income of $4 Millions.

The widow receives a life income on $64,202,694 and the gift outright of real estate in Nassau county worth $2,373,961 and of New York City real estate worth $750,000, in addition to $50,000 cash and furniture, jewelry, and race horses valued at $464,747.

The two children of Mr. Whitney—Mrs. Joan Whitney Payne and John Hay Whitney—both receive temporary life estates of $27,101,347 until they attain the age of 40, when the funds of both estates are to go outright to Mr. Whitney's grandchild, Miss Payne Whitney Payson. On the death of her grandmother, Miss Payson is also to inherit the net fund of the former's life estate.

Katherine B. Barnes of Manhattan, a cousin of Mr. Whitney, receives a legacy of $100,000.

Two Well Remembered Friends.

Finley Peter Dunne, formerly of Chicago, the creator of "Mr. Dooley," is not only to receive a legacy of $500,000 but is forgiven a debt of $3,290—and the record reveals that prior to his death Mr. Dunne had given him cash gifts of a total of $917,654. Eugene Hale Jr., a financier of 139 East 48th street, received similar gifts and now receives a legacy similar to that of Mr. Dunne, while a similar debt is forgiven.

The appraisal also reveals that Payne Whitney was the owner of a half interest in the largest personal holding company ever formed. This was the Northern Finance corporation, which was organized for the purpose of controlling the vast Whitney security holdings. Payne Whitney's shares in the Northern Finance corporation, 50,000 in number, are valued by the appraiser at $124,371,191. The remaining 50,000 shares are held by an unnamed person who is believed, however, to be Harry Payne Whitney, the elder brother of Payne Whitney.

Fine Fleet of Cars.

Listed as a tangible asset is an unnamed and unexplained painting by the immortal Raphael, which is in storage in London. A "book value" of $29,999 is assigned to this. On the other hand, all painting of the old time Troy prize fighter, John C. Hennessy, is also listed as an asset, being valued at $20.

Items which indicate the luxury in which Mr. Whitney lived included twenty-nine automobiles, appraised at $35,000, and numbering four Rolls-Royces, five Lincolns, and four Fords. The tennis racket used by Mr. Whitney when he won the amateur championship in 1907.

Women Try to Nip Barrymore Wedding Plans

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 22.—[Special.]—Unmarried women who try to prevent John Barrymore from getting married for the third time mean nothing in his life, the actor said frankly this afternoon.

Earlier in the day a young woman appeared at the Los Angeles county license bureau and told Chief Clerk Rosamond Rice that "the marriage of John Barrymore and Dolores Costello must be prevented. John Barrymore is married and has never been divorced. The report that his wife died is a lie. His wife sent a telegram to friends in Los Angeles in which she said that she never would get or give John Barrymore a divorce."

The young woman left after Miss Rice informed her that, in absence of a formal complaint, Barrymore would receive his marriage license at the expiration of the three day marriage notice period, which in the case of John and Dolores expires tomorrow.

Another Woman Phones.

Miss Rice said that she received a telephone call from another mysterious woman who said Barrymore is not free to marry. She added: "I know the mother of Michael Strangely has telegraphed a woman in Los Angeles asking her to help her obtain a divorce."

The phone call likewise was ruled out as a valid obstacle to granting the license.

Miss Costello dismissed the incident with the remark: "Mr. Barrymore asked me to marry him. Therefore I believed and still believe that he is legally able to marry me."

Barrymore Is Annoyed.

At the United Artists studio Barrymore said: "I am not going to say anything further, and I am not going to be disturbed. I issued my statement two days ago and I stick to it."

Barrymore's statement was that his second wife, Mrs. Blanche Oelrichs Thomas Barrymore (Michael Strangely), had recently secured a divorce from him, thereby making him free to marry. Barrymore declined to say where his wife secured her decree.

Maurice Costello, father of the bride-to-be, said: "It seems to me that in the present circumstances it is up to Mr. Barrymore to present his papers showing where and when his divorce took place, so that disagreeable talk can be cleared up."

ACQUIT FIVE IN LAKE COUNTY OF FRAUD CHARGES

A jury in the circuit court at Waukegan last night returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of five men, including two former trustees of Lake county, who were charged with a conspiracy to embezzle $100,000 from the county funds.

The defendants were Roy W. Bracher and Ira E. Pearsall, the ex-treasurers; C. C. Nye, formerly vice president of the First National bank of Eureka, Kas.; Harold E. Martin, formerly vice president of the Security Savings bank of Waukegan, and Caleb A. Busick, a real estate dealer. A former trial resulted in a disagreement of the jury, which was dismissed after twenty-one hours of deliberation.

Testimony showed that Bracher had sent the money to Nye's bank for deposit. The defense asserted that the transaction was legitimate and that the bank failed, causing the loss of the fund. Bondsmen of Bracher and Pearsall, who succeeded him, have repaid the county the $100,000.

Zion Police Chief Loses His 30 Cents—and His Car

Chief Bruns was in town to see the hockey games at the Coliseum and paid a youth 30 cents to guard the machine, he said. When the game was over the youth, the car, and the 30 cents were gone.

JURY CONVICTS IN TERROR CASE; FIXES FINES ONLY

Genero Only One to Be Acquitted.

The jury in the trial of the sixteen Eller henchmen charged with election fraud conspiracy returned a verdict shortly before 6 o'clock this morning finding all the defendants, except one, guilty, and fixing the penalties at fines ranging from $1,250 down to $400. Earlier in its stormy deliberations the jury had voted against any jail or prison sentences.

The one man who was acquitted is Joseph Annerino, also known as Peppi Genero. The jury believed the evidence was not sufficient to connect him with the rowdism in the 20th ward on primary election day. The fifteen who were convicted and their fines are as follows:

HARRY HOCHSTEIN, chief lieutenant of the Eller 20th ward organization, $1,000.

JAMES R. LEONARDO, state senator and follower of Crowe-Thompson- Eller faction, $750.

PETER FACELLI, former policeman on State's Attorney Crowe's staff, $400.

SAM KAPLAN, $1,250.

BENJAMIN JACOBSON, once a 20th ward candidate for alderman, $400.

SAM BARDEN, a henchman, $400.

EDDIE BROWNSTEIN, Eller precinct captain in 23rd ward, $400.

MORRIS BROWNSTEIN, Eller precinct captain in 23rd ward, $400.

ABE (HUMPHY) KLASS, henchman of the Eller, $1,000.

JOSEPH BRICLAV, a school employee, $400.

SAM FELLAR, $400.

JOHN ARMANDO, $400.

ROCCO FANELLI, $400.

ALBERT BRAVERMAN, 20th ward precinct captain, $400.

AUBREY REED, Negro Eller worker, $500.

Crowds Mass as New Doctor Is Called In BULLETIN.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—[AP.]—It was announced officially today that there was "a slight extension of the mischief in King George's lung."

LONDON, Nov. 23.—[King George's] feverish cold has grown worse. One lung is congested and he has influenza. Sir Stanley Hewitt and Lord Dawson of Penn, the king's physicians, tonight called in a third doctor and the three medical men stayed at the king's bedside until midnight.

The public disquietude caused by Wednesday's announcement of the king's indisposition deepened into anxiety today when an early bulletin was issued reporting: "His majesty's condition is slightly worse."

Congestion of One Lung.

Apprehensions thus engendered were given a sharper point by another bulletin at 8 o'clock, which said: "His majesty passed a rather sleepless day, owing to the persistence of the fever. There is some congestion of one lung."

This news was flashed over agency wires to tickers in club and hotel lobbies and in half an hour a small knot of people had congregated outside Buckingham palace. Every minute the crowd grew larger. There was something in the very brevity of the bulletin which convinced his subjects that their king might be seriously ill and they showed their interest and sympathy in human fashion by gathering under his windows.

"No Anxiety Felt."

Perhaps these evidences of the public alarm caused the king's physicians to consider whether their earlier reports had not left themselves open to misinterpretation. At any rate, they called at the palace again late this evening and after an extended stay caused it to be known that "despite a slight complication no anxiety whatever is felt, and it is hoped the king will be about again in a day or two. Meantime he remains abed."

It was also intimated that the king's condition had not been considered serious enough to warrant communicating with either the Prince of Wales or his brother, the Duke of Gloucester, who are absent on an African hunting tour. There is no question, it was stated, of shortening their visit.

Susceptible to Colds.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—[U. P.]—The king, who is 63 years old and leads an active life, always has been susceptible to colds. Threat trouble has been the cause of several illnesses in his family and the Prince of Wales has combated a tendency to contract colds by leading a vigorous outdoor life. Both King George and his father, King Edward, grew beards to protect their throats.

WOMAN IS SHOT DOWN BY ROBBER IN DRINK PARLOR

Mrs. Cora Reagan, 33, a divorcee, 669 Barry avenue, was beaten and shot early this morning in a north drisk parlor at 294 North Clark street by a robber who had held three men at bay for several hours. When Mrs. Reagan and her escort, Samuel Hatfield, 617 Dole avenue, entered the place, the robber turned his attention to them. Hatfield was forced into the washroom.

The bandit then attempted to attack Mrs. Reagan, and when she resisted, beat her over the head with his pistol. As she fell she screamed and the robber fired one shot, the bullet striking her in the right side. She was taken to a hospital, where her wound was pronounced serious. John Marthel, who was in the place, said he believed he knew the robber and went with the police to search for him.

SEEK COOLIDGE FOR PETROLEUM INSTITUTE HEAD

New York, Nov. 22.—[Special.]—A move to offer the presidency of the American Petroleum Institute to President Coolidge at the institute's annual meeting in Chicago Dec. 24, has been started by officials powerful in the industry. Those favoring Mr. Coolidge for the position have been sounding out the opinion of other members of the institute and have received such an enthusiastic response that his election now hinges only on his willingness to accept.

Wants Jury Discharged

"State your motion," Judge O'Connor said then.

Attorney Abner then told the judges that it had become common gossip in the corridors and in the courtroom that the jurors were discussing the recent indictment of Anthony Sparks and Salvatore Esio, who had testified for the defense and had since been placed under charges of perjury by the "special grand jury."

In view of this fact, in view of the fact that information of these indictments has seeped into the jury room, and that the jurors are discussing them and that they threatened to throw out all the defense testimony as to two of the defendants, I move

Lawyers Still Fighting

Late at night, while the jurors were still debating, the lawyers for the defense were still fighting and a dramatic scene was passing in the chambers of the judges behind the courtroom.

Defense Attorneys Benedict J. Short, Michael J. Abner, Roland V. Libonati, and William B. Stansbury walked into chambers. Judge O'Connor sat at the time unperurbed behind his long glass topped table.

"I want to make a motion," Attorney Abner announced.

Judge O'Connor nodded his assent, sent for the court stenographer and for Prosecutors Edwin J. Haber and David D. Stansbury. The prosecutors came into chambers followed by Frank J. Loesch, president of the Chicago crime commission and chief special assistant attorney general before the special grand jury and 76 year old father of the inquiry into the brotherhood of crime and politics in Chicago.

Grand Canyon, Ariz., Nov. 22.—[AP.]—With about two weeks of adventure "sailing" ahead of them, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Hyde of Hansen, Idaho, today were somewhere between here and Needles, Cal., their destination, journeying down the turbulent Colorado river in a homemade scow. Until the adventurers reach Needles, little opportunity of learning of their fortunes in the canyon will be available.

SLAYER OF SON FREED AS SOBS FILL COURTROOM

Prosecutor Weeps Making
Plea for Acquittal.

Arthur F. Falk, 2643 North Sayre street, a member of the northwest commission, went home early on the morning of Aug. 28 and while under the influence of moonshine shot and killed his son, Eldred, 19 years old. The youth had upbraided the father for his conduct, according to the evidence, and had threatened to leave home.

"I guess I was pretty blundering from that and my boy resented it," Falk said the day after the crime while sitting up at the Cragin police station waiting for the action of a coroner's jury. "My son said, 'If you don't quit abusing my mother I'm going to leave home,' and he ran upstairs to pack his clothes and I followed him."

Mother and Daughter Bitter.
Mrs. Olga Falk, the wife of the defendant, and his daughter, Vernus, 20 years old, expressed bitterness over the shooting and announced that they would prosecute. At the inquest on Oct. 1 the wife took the stand and testified that three years of habitual drinking by her husband, which ended with the killing of her son.

"Three men brought Mr. Falk home last night," the wife testified at the inquest. "He was in an ugly mood and at once began criticizing his mother. He accused Albert of being a smart guy and threatened to get him."

"Eldred [the dead boy] tried to get his father's thoughts to more pleasant things and began talking about a vacation trip they both were planning. But the attempt was useless. Mr. Falk turned on Eldred and began to abuse him."

Appear Before Grand Jury.
The daughter, Vernus, at the inquest corroborated the testimony of her mother, and they both refused to be swayed by the aged mother of Falk, who was present. He testified on prosecution and announced that a private attorney would be employed to carry on the fight. He appeared a few days later before the grand jury and obtained an indictment.

Within the last week the mother and daughter made overtures to the state's attorney's office to drop the prosecution. A killing had occurred, they were informed, and the trial must go on.

Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock the case of Falk was called for trial before Judge D. J. Normandy in the Criminal court, and Assistant State's Attorney Emmet Byrne and Harold Levy, the son of the staff, appeared to prosecute. They refused to be swayed by a letter presented by Mrs. Falk and her daughter asking that the prosecution be dropped.

Father Weeps With Family.
The jury was selected in less than an hour. Prosecutor Byrne went forward to the witness stand, although he announced that the death penalty was not being asked in "this case." Court was adjourned until yesterday morning and the defendant was held to visit with his family. They sat while seated in a circle in the jury box.

"The trial opened at 10 o'clock with the opening statement. Prosecutor Byrne, outlining the state's evidence, wept, and his family wept with him, as the prosecutor placed on the stand the shotgun from which the bullet was fired.

Mrs. Falk, the daughter, was the witness. She is a pretty blonde girl, dressed in black, mourning for her brother. She sobbed as she testified.

Sister Tells of Shooting.
"My father came home at mid night," she said. "He was very badly intoxicated. He wanted to see Eldred who was upstairs asleep. My father went to go with him to my mother's house. I heard Eldred say 'I won't stay home here and see my father a drunkard like you are, and as you treat my mother like this. Then I heard Eldred say, 'I'd rather be dead than see my father a drunkard like you are.' Then I heard the shot and Eldred's scream."

Witness Charles O. Olson testified that Falk replied "yes" to his query as to whether he shot his son. Prosecutor Thomas Podgorski testified that Falk's condition after his drunk, stupor and his statement, "My son, I didn't do that, did I?" when

Auto Law Violators Aid Red Cross Drive

After listening to a talk by Dr. Francis E. Thornton on safe driving, 200 violators of the law on west park boulevards gathered in the Union Park auditorium were let off after promising to contribute to the Red Cross. Miss Bina Day Deneen, daughter of Senator Charles S. Deneen, and Mrs. Herbert Vogel collected $150 from them, while Mrs. Mary Barnes distributed Red Cross buttons.

BIBLE'S "LOVE THY NEIGHBOR" IS NO MERE IDEAL HERE

Oconto Falls, Wis., Nov. 22.—(AP)—"Love thy neighbor as thyself" is more than a phrase to farmers near here. They have exemplified it by rebuilding the burned farm home of a struggling widow with eight young children.

Almost before the ashes of the home of Mrs. Ernestina Schindel had cooled, neighbors gathered and laid the timbers for a new home.

Mrs. Schindel's husband died three years ago. With him she had worked to clear their wooded land and till it. When he died there were seven children to care for and an eighth was expected. Undaunted, Mrs. Schindel did the work of a farmer and a mother.

Then came the fire. Neighbors found her on the floor in the smoke filled room and saved her just in time. After rescuing her baby, she had rushed into save her belongings and was overcome.

But the neighbors were already busy. Under the direction of a man who is a carpenter, they rallied to her aid and by Sunday they say, she can move into her new home. They also raised enough money to give the family a new start.

It will be a real Thanksgiving this year for the Schindels.

told that he had killed his son. Prosecutor Byrne then read Falk's confession to the jury and completed the state's case.

Falk's attorney produced several character witnesses. Then a conference was held in the judge's chambers and it was announced that Falk would collapse if he testified, and therefore would not be called to the stand. Prosecutor Byrne stepped forward to make his closing argument.

He wept as he told the jury he could not ask for punishment for the man who shot his son.

Prosecutor Levy had walked out of the courtroom, whether in disgust or otherwise, he refused to say, while his associate was making the tearful plea for acquittal.

The jury retired to deliberate and within five minutes returned to the courtroom and handed a verdict to the clerk.

"Not guilty," read the clerk as everybody started to weep all over again and Falk walked to the street a free man.

Steals Scientist Milliken's Valuable Manuscripts

New York, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—While Prof. Robert A. Milliken, Nobel prize winner and president of the California Institute of Technology, was writing a telegram in the Grand Central station today a sneak thief stole a brief case containing the first few chapters of a book and sundry other manuscripts and notes. He will not say what the book is about, but the loss represents a good part of a year's labor.

MALONE PRAISES NORTHWESTERN'S UNIT OF R. O. T. C.

Maj. Gen. Paul B. Malone, commander of the Sixth corps area, received the R. O. T. C. unit at Northwestern university on the Evanston campus yesterday. Beside him in the reviewing stand was Col. Philip Fox, professor of astronomy at Northwestern, who was instrumental in introducing military training at the school.

"The best drilled student soldiers I have ever seen," was Gen. Malone's comment in a short talk following the review.

In a competitive drill for individuals, J. F. Strickler of Company B won a gold medal; P. M. Wadell of Company A, a silver medal, and Keith R. Willard of Company C, a bronze medal. The winner of the silver cup for the best drilled of the three companies will be announced at the Army and Navy ball next Wednesday night at Patten gymnasium.

$150 Collected

When 200 traffic law violators appeared before Dr. Francis Thornton, chairman of the safety commission of the west park board yesterday, they were dismissed after promising to contribute to the Red Cross. Miss Bina Day Deneen and Mrs. Herbert Vogel, Red Cross workers, collected about $150 for the Red Cross annual roll call which closes on Thanksgiving day.

A good turn also was done by the police department when Deputy Commissioner John Stepe turned over to the Red Cross 10,000 cigarettes confiscated when two holdup men were caught with a truck of stolen goods. The police were unable to trace the ownership of the cigarettes, the deputy explained. They will be given to disabled war veterans in hospitals.

Nearly 75 per cent of the police department membership has subscribed to the annual roll call, James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross, announced.

3 CHILDREN AND 2 ADULTS STRICKEN WITH SMALLPOX

City Physicians Admit
Blundering Case.

Five persons were taken from an apartment building at 7942 South Morgan street yesterday and sent to the Lawndale hospital as victims of smallpox. A sixth resident in the building became ill yesterday afternoon and may have contracted the same disease.

It was revealed that through a blunder of health department physicians, an 8 year old boy suffering from smallpox had been allowed to attend St. Leo's Roman Catholic parochial school at 78th street and Emerald avenue. As a result, 1,000 pupils will today be vaccinated or must produce proof that they were vaccinated recently.

Kegel Admits Mistake.
Health Commissioner Arnold H. Kegel admitted that a mistake had been made by his physicians in diagnosing the smallpox cases as chickenpox. He declared he was "shocked and surprised" but pointed out that smallpox has become such a rare disease and its symptoms have become so modified that modern physicians find difficulty in recognizing it.

The victims taken to the Lawndale hospital were Mr. and Mrs. Adam Sternberg, 42 and 53 years old, respectively, and Raymond, Betty Jane, and Richard Rydeen, 8, 6 and 3 years old, children of Mrs. Helen Rydeen.

Mrs. Mary Stalchey, another resident in the building, was the sixth person to become ill with what was thought to be the same malady.

Woman Condemns Doctors.
Mrs. Rydeen was bitter in condemning the action of the health department physicians. She declared there were more than 50 chickenpox cases in the neighborhood and pointed out that the doctors may have made the

EUREKA STUDENTS ASK REMOVAL OF COLLEGE PRESIDENT

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Action on the demand of 250 society men and women of Eureka college that Bert Wilson, president of the institution, offer his resignation or be removed by the trustees is expected Friday.

A threatened tieup of college activities is impending following student conferences today. A petition was presented to the trustees which assails Wilson, who has headed the institution for five years, on the grounds of character and inability to handle the institution. Dismissal of nine professors named the student action against Wilson.

Trustees declared the student movement was but a "flare up" and is certain to die down after a few days.

same mistake in diagnosing the other cases.

On Oct. 24, Mrs. Rydeen said, her little girl, Betty Jane, developed a fever which went to 105 degrees. She called in Dr. Charles Benner, the family physician, who declared he thought the child had contracted smallpox. Not being sure, Dr. Benner notified the health department on Oct. 24 and Dr. D. G. O'Neal answered the call.

Health department records support Mrs. Rydeen's story that Dr. O'Neal, joined later by Dr. Duncan E. McEachern, another health department physician, declared the child had chickenpox. A sign to this effect was put up.

Sign Is Taken Down.
On Nov. 12, a health department employee took down the chickenpox sign and Mrs. Rydeen was notified that her child might go back to school. She, however, kept the girl from school for another week. Then, on Nov. 19, she sent the child to school where she attended the third grade. Betty Jane was again withdrawn in a day or two.

Alarmed at the fact that all three of her children had by this time developed a rash on their faces and high fevers, Mrs. Rydeen again called Dr. McEachern, who admitted that the children had smallpox. Immediately afterward, Mr. and Mrs. Sternberg, were attacked with the disease.

CATCH FUGITIVE HEAD OF COLLAPSED BANKS; FLED GEORGIA IN '15

Macon, Ga., Nov. 22.—(AP)—The district attorney's office here announces tonight that John D. Walker, former president of a chain of more than 100 small banks in Georgia, who disappeared more than ten years ago, had been apprehended and was being returned to Macon from New York in custody of agents of the department of justice.

Walker disappeared from his home at Sparta, Ga., in 1915, about the same time his banks collapsed, and since then detectives have traced his movements through Japan and China.

Walker's father was John Hay, once Lincoln's secretary, later secretary of state. Mrs. Hay was a rich woman, being the granddaughter of Amasa Stone, once president of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railway.

JOE, JOE—WHO'S SEEN JOE? NOT CHICAGO POLICE

Joe Salita, the beer baron, was still among the missing yesterday, the 186th day he has been a fugitive from Chicago police and the 51st day that federal marshals have sought him.

Chicago police want Joe to serve a sixty days' Bridewell term for gun-toting following his conviction nearly two years ago before Municipal Judge George A. Curran and the federal men want him in response to a capias for his arrest issued by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson for bond forfeiture.

Nothing daunted by the fact that 5,000 Chicago police and 20 federal deputy marshals are constantly on his trail, Salita, reports have it, continues operation of a flourishing beer business among south side saloons. An account book kept by Salita was captured recently at the beer peddler's summer-home at Hayward, Wis., and its entries revealed that he had sold and collected for 2,900 barrels of beer during the previous two weeks.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
ABOARD U. S. S. MARYLAND, en route to Honduras, Nov. 22.—President Hoover today on his first address to the Latin American, to be given in Honduras and Salvador on Sunday, when he will tell his broad policy toward the southern republics and the purpose of this expedition. The Monroe doctrine stands as his leading policy. The President Elect was pleased when he received word today that the U. S. S. Maryland's detachment of warships, now in Nicaragua, will leave that country aboard the warship.

The Maryland this afternoon passed at full speed opposite Toluca and Jalisco, on the coast of Mexico. At 3 p. m. we were abreast the picturesque Marias Islands, with volcanic peaks in the background. Far to the west were the dim outlines of the jagged Jalisco coast. Tonight we may get a view of Colima, the most active volcano in America.

Talks to Honduras Sunday.
At the present speed, the warship should arrive in Fonseca Bay early Monday morning. The Maryland will anchor four miles out and Mr. Hoover will proceed to Amapala, Honduras, where the President Elect will make the first speech of his good-will mission.

Following the ceremonies at Amapala, he will cross the bay ten miles to La Union, Salvador, where President Pio Romero Bosque and Vice President Gustavo Vides will welcome the President Elect. Here also he will make a speech, in which emphasis will be made on the value of complete harmony between the United States and Central America.

The ceremonies in these two republics will take about ten hours, during which Mr. Hoover is expected to have time for conferences with the national officials of both countries.

Nicaragua Marines to Leave.
Leaving La Union, Mr. Hoover will return to the Maryland and sail for Orizaba, Nicaragua. A fine reception by the President Elect is planned here. Heading the welcome will be President Diaz, former President Chacarra and President Elect Machado. While the ceremonies there are in progress the marines on duty in Nicaragua will board the Maryland.

The reason this is so pleasing to Mr. Hoover is that it means the beginning of the complete withdrawal of all the American forces in Nicaragua, thus assuring a clean slate in all Central America for the United States armed forces.

gining of the complete withdrawal of all the American forces in Nicaragua, thus assuring a clean slate in all Central America for the United States armed forces.

Benefits Hoover's Health.
ABOARD U. S. S. MARYLAND, en route to Amapala, Honduras, Nov. 22.—Herbert Hoover's trip to South America thus far has treated him well.

Day by day, as the Maryland draws nearer its first ports of call on the President Elect's good will mission to Latin America, Mr. Hoover's face seems more rested and more and more he shows a carefree, happy mien to those about him. There is little question, those close to him say, that he is thoroughly enjoying the complete relaxation that is possible on shipboard after his long months of campaign strain.

Most of the official party likewise took to white. The President Elect, however, appeared again in his dark double-breasted coat, with white shoes and trousers. Mrs. Hoover wore a light tropical dress and most of this morning sat on the quarter deck in a steamer chair knitting, watching a golf game on an improvised teeing board, and occasionally glancing at her husband as he would stride past.

Inspects Ships.
During the day Mr. Hoover, accompanied by Ambassador Henry P.

Fletcher, made a thorough inspection of the Maryland. They were taken into the plotting fire control room, from which civilians are barred because of the blanket of secrecy thrown around methods of directing the fire of battleships. Mr. Hoover displayed a keen interest in the intricate methods and the delicate instruments used in the control for adjustment of fire.

Members of the official party and officers and sailors of the Maryland spent a part of today preparing Christmas greetings for the folk back home. The task had a touch of incongruity, coupled as were tinsel Christmas cards with conventional Christmas scenes of holly, mistletoe, and Santa Claus, with the hot weather and perspiring white clad sailors.

Itinerary on Continent.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 22.—(P)—President Hoover's itinerary on his Latin-American tour from Valparaiso, Chile, to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, was announced today in a message received by the navy department from the battleship Maryland.

The message said that Mr. Hoover would arrive aboard the Maryland at Valparaiso on Dec. 7 and would depart the same day for Santiago, where he will arrive and depart on the 8th. He is to arrive at Los Angeles, Chile, on the 8th and depart the following day for Buenos Aires, where he expects to arrive the 10th. After a day at Buenos Aires, Mr. Hoover will depart on the 11th for Montevideo, Uruguay, where he will arrive the 12th. He will spend that day there and leave for Rio de Janeiro, where he expects to arrive Dec. 15.

Brazil United in Fracas.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Nov. 22.—The leading newspapers of Brazil continue competing in a similar manner on President Hoover's trip. That is remarkable because opinions of the Brazilian press on international and domestic affairs, always conflict. Generally pointing out that Brazil is the friendliest to the United States among the Latin-American countries, they praise Mr. Hoover's interest and good will toward Latin America, saying the trip will bring enormous benefits.

Argentina Disappointed.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Nov. 22.—Something more than disappointment was expressed in American circles today when it was learned that President Hoover's stay in Buenos Aires is likely to be less than forty-eight hours. Many prominent Americans say the visit is far too short to give Mr. Hoover a fair opportunity to size up conditions. Municipal authorities are being urged from all quarters to repair the pedestal monument of George Washington in Palermo park, which was a gift of the American residents on the occasion of the Argentine centenary of independence in 1910. The base of the monument was badly damaged by a bomb last July, presumably by Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizers, and never was repaired.

BRITISH SEE BLOW AT LATIN TRADE IN HOOVER VISIT

'Marks New Step Toward Political Peace.'

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, Nov. 22.—The first serious reaction of British opinion on President Hoover's visit to South America today points out that the trip undoubtedly is intended to boost American trade and that, whether it is directed at Great Britain or not, it is sure to have an injurious effect on the British trade in the South American continent.

"It is an open secret that this trip of the President Elect marks a new step, if not a new policy, toward political rapprochement and trade intensification in South America," the Post said. "The political atmosphere, if not exactly unsatisfactory, is admittedly capable of much improvement. His Control in Panama.

"The United States' control of Panama and her tutelage in Cuba and Haiti are hardly distinguishable from a protectorate. Her armed intervention at various dates in Mexico, Costa Rica, and Nicaragua placed too severe a strain on the Monroe Doctrine for it to retain any trace of altruism in Latin American eyes."

The Post then points out that, while in 1913 the British percentage of Latin American imports was twenty-five and America's was twenty-four, in 1927 this was changed to sixteen per cent for Great Britain and thirty-eight per cent for America.

"A Great Estate."

The Post says America views the South American continent as a great undeveloped estate whose resources can be profitably exploited, and points to the success of the copper, coal, and iron properties in the Andes and the Guaymas in Chile as examples of what can be done by American capital.

Great Britain also points out the advantage secured by American loans to the South American states.

"That important results may come of this trip may be safely predicted. We in this country are well advised to follow it closely," the article concludes.

SUBGLASS GET $110; ESCAPE.

HOOVER TRIP TO BOOST TRADE, BARRETT SAYS

New York, Nov. 22.—(P)—The visit of President Hoover to South America will bring about an increase of billions of dollars in United States trade and investments with Latin America, John Barrett, former director general of the Pan-American union, said in an address tonight.

Speaking at a dinner of the New York Young Republican club, Mr. Barrett declared the tour of the President Elect would solidify political, economic, and social relations between the United States and South America, with subsequent growth in trade to $1,000,000,000 annually and investments to $10,000,000,000, or a twofold increase over present figures.

Jacob M. Dickinson Will Undergo Operation Today

Surgeons at St. Luke's hospital decided yesterday to operate this morning upon Jacob M. Dickinson, 73 years old, secretary of war from 1909 to 1911 under President Taft. Mr. Dickinson has suffered from a gall bladder complaint. He has been under observation for some days at the hospital. Dr. E. L. McArthur will perform the operation.

POLITICAL CAMPS CHANT DRAINAGE PAY ROLL BLUES

Words as Follows: 'Is My Name Written There?'

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Rejection was smeared over the political landscape yesterday and negotiations over reorganization of the military district on Dec. 3 were at a standstill. Wherever politicians assembled the $3,300,000 pay roll of the district was the great topic. At headquarters the favorite hymn of the day was, "Is My Name Written There?"

Political leaders appeared depressed. They pointed out that both Democrats and the Densen camp exhibit amusements from pay roll list. Judge John A. Swanson, state's attorney elect, was the subject of much conjecture and in some quarters nervousness was manifest. Wisconsin fell thick and fast.

"If Judge Swanson walked down Michigan avenue," said one Democratic oracle, "you'd see them grabbing umbrellas for parachutes and jumping out of the military board room windows. It's going to be a cold and nervous Christmas. The pay roll blow up has choked the chimneys in many a home and Santa Claus might as well go west as far as Chicago before starting in."

Densen Followers Lamented. Lamentations, too, came from within the Densen camp. "Up on the north side," bewailed one eyed in the wood Democrat, "we've always carried our heads in the air and stepped high, wide, and handsome. We've been assailing bi-partisan alliances on the drainage board, and now some of our Densen committeemen and headquarters men are found on the pay roll. It's dispiriting."

The rank and file in the various camps fell roughly into three groups. Those not on the rolls who loudly professed gladness over the fact, those who had been on but now are off and want to be again, and those who were not on the campaign pay rolls and proclaimed themselves victims of discrimination on the part of their group chiefs. Some of the 1,147 "water investigators" who were dropped on Nov. 12 as soon as the vote was counted bombarded committeemen with importunities to put in a word. Some exhibited their precinct election returns to prove their value to the military district.

For Elmore or Woodruff. Talk among the trustees was that one of the two new members, Howard W. Elmore, Densen Republican, or Ross A. Woodruff, Democrat, if elected, president would be the best pick to promote public confidence. For three days overtures between the four Democrats, the two Densen men, and the two holdovers Thompson members have been stockstill, and the talk yesterday was that if a 4-3 deadlock occurs over reorganization it may be broken by a breakup of the groups and a vote for one of the two new men.

Elmore is rated by the trustees as the leading candidate. He retired yesterday that he will not accept the presidency unless given control of the employment committee.

The Densen group indicates that it will demand the presidency and the position of chief engineer and chief clerk or head of the legal department.

He has made a gift for a similar institution in Jackson park and bids for the election are to be opened in December.

MICHAEL L. IGOE WEDS GALESBURG GIRL; IS SURPRISE

Michael L. Igoe, south park commissioner and minority leader in the Illinois house of representatives, and Miss Ruth O'Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Connor of Galesburg, Ill., were married yesterday in the presence of a small group of friends at the Church of St. Thomas the Apostle, 15th street and Kimbark avenue.

The marriage came as a surprise to Mr. Igoe's closest associates. A number of the members of the south park board did not learn of the wedding until five minutes before it was performed at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The Rt. Rev. Thomas V. Shaflin officiated.

Mrs. Igoe is a cousin of Edward N. Hurley, former president of the United States shipping board, and of Judge Denis E. Sullivan. She is a graduate of Knox college at Galesburg and is said to have met Mr. Igoe at Springfield. The bride was attended by Miss Eleanor Coyne. William D. O'Brien, close friend of Mr. Igoe, acted as best man.

YOUTHFUL KILLER FACING 18 YEAR TERM IS MARRIED

Sam Kaufman, 18 years old, an assistant boy scout master, under 18 years' sentence for murder, was married yesterday to Miss Goldie Shook, his former partner in a dance marathon, who expects soon to become the mother of his child. Judge John P. McGorty, who pronounced sentence against Kaufman on Tuesday, performed the marriage ceremony.

Young Kaufman shot and killed Dr. Julien Finkle, member of the staff of Mount Sinai hospital, as the physician sat in a car with Miss Rose Steele, 517 South Laramie avenue. The youth ordered the couple to turn over their valuables, pulled the trigger of his gun and ran.

At the trial, Miss Shook was a principal defense witness. On the stand she revealed her condition and attempted to assume blame for the killing.

After the verdict was returned and sentence pronounced, Judge McGorty said he would consider marrying the pair before Kaufman went to Joliet. The gift assented eagerly and Assistant State's Attorney James Brown, the prosecutor, and Attorney Douglas Brennan, defense counsel, witnessed the ceremony.

SEA IN VESTRIS' STOCKHOLD HOUR AFTER IT SAILED

3 Feet Deep Next Day,
Stoker Testifies.

New York, Nov. 22.—(Special).—Two important points affecting the seaworthiness of the Lamport & Holt liner Vestris, which sank Nov. 18 off the Virginia capes with the loss of 111 lives, were brought out today at the investigation by Dickerson N. Hoover, supervising inspector general of the department of commerce, sitting at the custom house.

The first was that a year ago, off Cape Hatteras, the Vestris took on water through a leak which never was located and that water frequently gushed into her stokehold through the ash hopper.

The second was that the vessel was listing to starboard and that water was rising under the plates of the boiler room floor one hour after she left this port on her last voyage.

Both of these revelations were made by Samuel Augustus Farfitt, a Negro stoker.

Tells of Peril Year Ago.

"Water came through that ash ejector in greater quantities at other times—I mean on other trips—but it never seemed to affect the ship any," he said. "But once, about a year ago, we were off Cape Hatteras. Water got in somewhere, and the ship started to fill rapidly. The pumps couldn't clear it out. A man had to jump up to his neck in water to clean out the drain underneath. Then the water was pumped out."

Farfitt said there was a slight list to starboard Saturday night and that water was coming in through the ash ejectors an hour after the vessel left New York.

Sunday morning the water in the

THREE OCEAN LINERS SIGNAL SOS CALLS; SHIPS RUSH TO RESCUE

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(AP).—The German steamer Herwenyck was reported in distress late today about 645 miles west of Ireland, in longitude 24 west, latitude 54.32 north. The distress report was received by Lloyd's Valentia wireless station at 5:30 p. m. Greenwich time. The British steamer Transylvania was standing by, it was said.

S O S from Japanese Ship.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 22.—(AP).—The Mackay Radio and Telegraph company reported shortly after noon today that the Dollar liner President Madison, en route from Seattle to Yokohama, picked up three S O S calls from an unknown Japanese steamer this morning. The messages gave the steamer's latitude as 40.50 north. No longitude was obtainable because of interference from other vessels, said the report.

Greek Ship in Distress.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(AP).—Radio advice received by Lloyd's from the Greek steamer Virginia, which was sinking today off the coast of Portugal, stated that the master hoped to be able to reach the shore as she was submerging slowly. Lloyd's agents at Oporto also telegraphed that a Portuguese warship and a tug have gone to the assistance of the vessel.

Stokehold was three feet high on the starboard side, he testified, and the list increased from eight to ten degrees during that watch.

Pumps Worked Badly.

He saw the chief engineer working on the pumps. Now and then one pump would go out of order and as soon as it gave out another would be started, he said.

Just before the Hoover hearing adjourned until tomorrow morning, Herbert G. Weiland, the Vestris' third officer, took the stand and said he observed no list to the ship until Sunday night, and that the only explanation he could think of for the disaster was that "the heavy storm might have sprung a plate."

After the adjournment, Assistant Secretary Brown of the department of commerce, who has been aiding Mr. Hoover at the inquiry, said that despite the testimony of passengers and some of the crew to the effect that the Vestris leaked in half a dozen places, that lifeboats leaked and jammed on the falls, and that their equipment was defective, he had heard no evidence to indicate that the local steamboat inspectors were lax.

Carey's Colleague Witnesses.

The outstanding point in the continuation of the Tuttle inquiry before United States Commissioner O'Neill was the testimony of Capt. William Andrew Bambara of the Lamport & Holt line and a former master of the Vestris.

Closely pressed by the American nautical expert, E. P. Jessop, Capt. Bambara admitted that if he had been in command of a ship which had sustained a list of 30 degrees he certainly would have had his lifeboats swung out in readiness.

Confronted by the cold facts of the appalling delay in safeguarding the lives of the passengers and of the disorder and utter lack of method which has been sworn to by several witnesses, Bambara could only reiterate that Capt. Carey was an excellent seaman.

Joseph Boxhill, a Negro stoker, gave testimony more comprehensible and explanatory than most of the white witnesses have given.

Denies Cowardice Stories.

He insisted that there was little or no cowardice aboard the Vestris, and not even any panic. Men, women, and children conducted themselves with marvelous patience and fortitude, he said, and with the sea boiling over the decks few seemed to recognize the imminence of death.

Two members of the crew previously had testified that the defective cargo door in the starboard side let in a great quantity of water when the storm began on Sunday, and that this water then fell into the coal bunkers through open hatches in the floor of a working alleyway. Boxhill testified today that he knew this to be a fact; that the water which filled the bunkers and invaded the fireroom came from "on top" from the alleyway above.

WRONG WOMAN DONS MOURNING; FIGHT FOLLOWS

Two young women sat in the inquest chamber of the county morgue yesterday and registered opposing types of emotion. They were attending the inquest into the death of John Pecora, west side hoodlum who was shot and killed Sept. 30 during a revolver duel with two policemen in the Turkish Village café, 608 North Clark street.

One of the young women, Mrs. Myrtle Pecora, 23 year old widow of the dead man, spent most of her time at the inquest glaring at the other woman, Mrs. Vivian Engles, 32 year old blonde divorcee, who was with Pecora at the time of the shooting. Mrs. Engles wore black in mourning for the dead man.

Mrs. Pecora presented the mourning ensemble as an asperser upon her rôle of bona fide widow. Suddenly she screamed, "Why is she wearing black? I'll kill her!" and leaping from the witness stand she started to pummel Mrs. Engles. The latter immediately substituted rage for grief, and the two fell to punching each other. They were separated by four policemen.

When the jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide, Mrs. Pecora amended her threat and said, "I don't want to kill her; I just want to cripple her."

BANDITS TIE UP 3 EMPLOYEES; TAKE $25,000 IN GEMS

Shortly afternoon yesterday three armed men entered the Olsen and Ebbann jewelry store at 6530 South Halsted street and after binding three employees, looted the showcases of jewelry valued at $25,000.

One of the men came in alone and asked the cashier, Lillian Brackenbury, 734 East 73d street, to show him some wedding rings. The manager, L. E. Cok, 8507 Drexel avenue, and a porter, A. D. Merwin, 558 North Clark street, were in the rear of the store.

Two other men then entered, displaying revolvers. They ordered the three employees to lie on the floor in the rear and then bound them. Two men rifled the showcases and removed a tray of diamond rings from the window, while the third took $200 in currency from the safe. In smashing one of the glass cases, the pistol of one of the bandits broke and was left behind. Police are attempting to trace the owner through the number.

Clarence Olsen, president of the company, with loop offices at 209 South State street, said the same store had been robbed of jewelry valued at $35,000 four years ago.

BY TOM PETTEY.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
New York, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The men behind Chicago's projected $100,000,000 west side elevated highway project in this city. They came at an opportune time, for the board of estimate was holding a hearing today on Manhattan's express highway which is to straddle "Death Avenue" from the Holland vehicular tunnel to Riverside drive.
"We learned a lot today," said Dr. John Dill Robertson, president of the Chicago west side park commission, arriving early in the morning, the Chicago delegation, composed of Dr. Robertson, Joseph Siman, auditor of the west side park commission; Daniel A. Roberts, attorney; C. S. Michalsen, architect; and Julius G. Gabelman, engineer, went immediately to the city hall, where they attended a meeting of the board of estimate.
After hearing a detailed discussion of New York's west side elevated highway and learning that almost every city and commercial organization in the city was securely behind the plan, a where traffic congestion members of the committee went into conference with Borough President Julius Miller, mayor of Manhattan's express road.

Work Out Minor Details.
President Miller assured them New York would be glad for Chicago to profit by its experience. He told the Chicagoans that Manhattan's highway was an assured fact and that only the details remained to be worked out. The Chicago elevated highway would be built in Fulton street, connecting Wacker drive and Canal street with South Boulevard on the west.
Dr. Robertson, after talking with Mr. Miller and listening to the hearing, said:
"It looks to me as if this is going to be a race between Chicago and New York to see which city is the first to have an elevated express highway.

"New York has the start on us and has been working longer, but conditions in Chicago are not as complex as they are in Manhattan and I believe we can move faster. We have been working on our highway there for six months and we have the people solidly behind us. It remains for us to go before the legislature in January and obtain the necessary legislation. Then we can start construction."

Engineers Explain Project.
After the board of estimate meeting was concluded, the Chicago delegation went to the office of Chief City Engineer C. M. Pickney where all of the plans and detailed information concerning the New York elevated highway were explained by engineers. Mr. Pickney agreed with Mr. Robertson that the Chicago elevated highway would cost between $1,200,000 and $1,400,000 per mile. This conclusion was arrived at after it was explained that the Chicago highway would be fifty feet wide and would not need supporting pillars as large as will be used on the Manhattan roadway which will be almost twice as wide.

The relative merits of straight steel as against steel reinforced with concrete was discussed. Mr. Pickney was of the opinion that while a structure built entirely of steel was best suited to New York, reinforced concrete could be used to an advantage in Chicago.
In New York it has been found necessary to have the supporting pillars of the highway at least 50 feet apart. This is because of heavy traffic beneath the elevated roadway. In Chicago, it was explained, the surface traffic is not so heavy and pillars can be placed closer together.

Lights in Center.
"After discussing all features of the two express highway projects with Mr. Pickney," said Dr. Robertson, "I am of the opinion we will have to change only a few of our ideas. I agree with Mr. Pickney that it will be best to have something more than a painted strip dividing the two lines of traffic. I now believe we should have a concrete ledge in the middle.

"This will not sacrifice much space and can be used as a base for our lighting system. A line of lights down the middle will be cheaper and more ornamental than lights on either side. In addition, the view from both sides of the roadway will remain unobstructed."

"It is our intention to make Chicago's express highway a real pleasure highway. It will be ornamental as well as useful. Here in New York they are not giving so much attention to the artistic possibilities of such a highway as we are in Chicago.
"We plan to use portions of the existing boulevard system. Here we will have massive flower pots, filled with all types of plants, hanging from the side of the roadway. It will be a thing of beauty as well as a thing of speed."

Ramp System Studied.
Considerable attention was given to the Manhattan system of ramps. In New York a plan has been worked out to widen the highway at certain points and permit ramps to be built leading to the surface road directly beneath the elevated structure. These are known as "crisscross" ramps.

In Chicago a different plan will have to be worked out, according to Dr. Robertson and Engineer Gabelman. They explained the roadway would not be wide enough to permit entrance to and from its runways through the center.

"We will build our ramps from either side," said Mr. Gabelman, "for we have more outside space than here in New York. The entrances and exits on the Chicago elevated roadway will be approximately a mile apart and I do not believe it will be necessary to have a single stop and go signal along the entire seven and one-half mile stretch."

Mr. Siman, the auditor, said the financial plans, as explained by President Miller, were very much the same as would be followed in Chicago. In Chicago, he said, the 19 wards on the west side would bear the brunt of the expense, while here in New York, Manhattan would pay for its own highway.

CITY LAW STAFF TO WORK 2 WEEKS WITHOUT SALARY

Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Etelson set a new precedent at the city hall yesterday with an announcement that each of the 312 employees in the law department, beginning today, will work two weeks without pay.

"Mayor Thompson has ordered every department to retrench on its budget and this is one department that is going to do it," Mr. Etelson explained. "Everybody from myself down is donating two weeks' salary to the city treasury."

The law department's economy quota was $100,000, of which $50,000 was saved, according to Mr. Etelson, by a reduction of the legal force. Another $12,000 will be saved by elimination of the pay roll for two weeks, he said.

NEW CHINA WARNS ROOSEVELTS OF PERILS ON HUNT

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
SHANGHAI, Nov. 22.—The Chinese government today offered all possible protection to Theodore and Kermit Roosevelt, who are visiting China early next year in a big game hunting expedition in behalf of the Field museum of Chicago.

Nationalist Foreign Minister Wang today cabled:
"The Chinese government welcomes the Roosevelts on their visit to China, on a hunting expedition and will extend every facility, but cannot assume full responsibility of protection in areas where unsettled conditions prevail and which the Roosevelts may desire to visit."

15 CRUISER BILL GETS A START ON ANTI-WAR PACT

Borah Agrees to Give It Right of Way.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Washington, D. C., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Early passage of the fifteen cruiser bill now pending in the senate was predicted today by Senator Frederick Hale [Rep., Me.], chairman of the naval committee, following conference with Senator William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho], chairman of the foreign relations committee, and other senators who have arrived in Washington in advance of the opening of congress.

Notwithstanding the pacifist drive throughout the nation against the cruiser bill and for prompt ratification of the Kellogg treaty, Senator Hale asserted today that in his opinion the cruiser measure will override all opposition.

Senator Borah, champion of the Kellogg anti-war pact, announced that he will place no obstacles in the way of the naval bill in the senate.

Despite pacifist attempts to force ratification of the peace treaty prior to action on the cruiser bill, Senator Hale expressed the view that there would be no attempt to push it ahead of the naval program.

Working Agreement Seen. Apparently a working agreement has been reached by the two chambers. While neither admitted he had pledged himself or his adherents to support the other's measure, it was inferred that they have agreed not to sanction obstructionist tactics against either the treaty or the cruiser bill.

Senator Borah stated after the conference that if the anti-war pact were brought to the floor of the senate at the earliest possible moment he would not take any steps to displace the naval bill which in the ordinary course would come up first.

"I feel that the naval bill is larger than necessary," he said, "but I do not intend to seek to delay a vote on it and I hope no friend of the naval bill will seek to delay a vote on the treaty. Each should stand on its merits. My idea is to proceed with the treaty in the matter of procedure as if no naval bill was up for consideration."

May Shelve Boulder Dam. Senator Hale hopes to dispose of the Boulder dam bill, which is the first order of business before the senate, and have the cruiser measure acted on before Christmas. Should this fail, he will push the bill up for consideration immediately after the Boulder bill is disposed of.

Senator Hiram Johnson [Rep., Cal.], who is directing the fight for the Boulder dam bill, has been ill and may not reach Washington for the opening of the session. In that case the cruiser bill could be brought up at once by unanimous consent.

One open question is whether Senator Borah will be able to prevent other senate champions of the anti-war treaty from being swayed by the pacifist campaign to force the treaty over first.

It was reported that with the probable exception of Senators Norris [Rep., Neb.], La Follette [Rep., Wis.], and Blaine [Rep., Wis.], other senate radicals have agreed to make no extended fight to amend or delay the naval bill.

Pacifists Launch Drive.

In the meantime pacifist leaders are bringing all the pressure they can command upon the White House and senate to kill the cruiser bill and put the treaty over.

Letters, messages and resolutions are pouring in on President Coolidge as the result of the activity of the National Council for the Prevention of War and other pacifist organizations. A similar deluge is arriving at the offices of Senator Borah and Senator Claude A. Swanson [Dem., Va.], ranking minority member of the foreign relations committee.

Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the National Council for Prevention of War, and other pacifist leaders are mobilizing the thousands of the pacifist organizations throughout the country to continue the drive.

Indications now are that the President will follow his usual procedure and send the anti-war treaty to the senate with other treaties now ready for senate action. It is also considered certain that he will follow his Armistice day plea for additional cruisers by urging passage of the naval bill.

SCHOOL MATTERS OCCUPY MAYOR'S ADVISORY GROUP

Mayor Thompson's advisory committee of prominent Chicago merchants and professional men, formed to aid the city fathers in guiding municipal building into the right paths and, from time to time, to pass on a word of advice to the mayor, met yesterday for the first time in three months, but no municipal matters were brought before them.

Problems of the board of education received the sole attention of the committee, according to formal statement made by Elmer Stevens, who presided.

The statement follows: "President H. Wallace Caldwell of the school board has since his election continuously called upon the executive committee of the mayor's committee for advice on matters pertaining to conduct of the schools and school finances. The meeting of today was called at Mr. Caldwell's request for this purpose and no other matters were discussed."

It was learned that President Caldwell submitted plans for legislative relief for the present condition of school finances. Mr. Caldwell stated yesterday that a deficit is expected.

NEARLY A THIRD OF U. S. PRISONERS ARE DRY LAW 'BREAKERS'

Washington, D. C., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Nearly one-third of the 9,294 prisoners in federal penitentiaries on June 30 last, were prohibition law violators, it was revealed today in statistics compiled by the prison division of the department of justice.

The report shows that 2,530 persons were sent to federal prisons for infractions of the dry law during the last fiscal year. The next largest number of prisoners, 2,117, were violators of the anti-narcotic law, followed in order by 1,396 violators of the national motor vehicle theft law, and 960 violators of the postal laws.

Among the other crimes listed in the report were 146 sent to prison for violating revenue laws, 238 for counterfeiting, 53 for illegal sale of liquor in Indian reservations, 125 for violation of the national banking laws and 297 for violation of the white slave act.

The report shows that on June 30 there were 3,169 prisoners confined in the Atlanta penitentiary, 3,498 in the Leavenworth penitentiary.

COOLIDGE O. K.'S MADDEN SHOALS BILL MINUS DAM

Washington, D. C., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—President Coolidge today told a congressional delegation that the Madden Muscle Shoals bill was satisfactory to him if it would not incur the building of another dam.

The bill provides for leasing for fifty years the shoals property to the American Cyanamid company, which would manufacture fertilizer and dispose of the surplus power generated.

The delegation, headed by Representative Almon [Dem., Ala.], was united in the opinion that the veto of the Madden bill for government operation of Muscle Shoals by Mr. Coolidge at the end of the last session definitely invalidated that measure.

SHUMAKER MAY GET HIS 60 DAYS DESPITE PARDON

Validity Questioned in Court Order.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 22.—(Special)—The Indiana Supreme court today issued an order directing the Rev. J. H. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league, to show cause by Dec. 1 why the sentence of 60 days on the Indiana state farm should not be carried out.

Time ago the court found Shumaker guilty of the contempt charge and sentenced him to 60 days and a fine of $100 and costs. After a long fight against the penalty, Shumaker, late in October, suddenly abandoned his resistance and surrendered. He was started to the state farm, prepared to begin serving the sentence.

Pardon Frees Him.
On his arrival there it was found he had been freed by a pardon from Gov. Ed Jackson, which was returned on payment of the fine.

Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom immediately filed a motion with the supreme court asking that the judgment be carried out. The action taken by the court today was on this motion.

In the motion Gilliom argued that the governor did not have the power to pardon Shumaker from liability to serve a contempt sentence imposed by the supreme court, and that the judgment of imprisonment was still in effect in spite of the pardon. The attorney representing Shumaker recently filed a motion to dismiss Gilliom's motion and Thursday, before the court order was issued, filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus to set aside the order for a 30-day term of Nov. 12 in which to file briefs in support of their motion.

One Judge Dissents.
The order today was signed by Justice David A. Myers, who was joined by Chief Justice Shreve and Justice Shreve's vigorous opposition. Justice Clarence R. Martin was the only judge dissenting.

In order said: "The state of Indiana . . . having received information showing that Shumaker, heretofore made a prisoner, has not been executed to the state farm, it is ordered by this court that Edward S. Shumaker, respondent, be committed to the state farm on the first day of December, 1928, why execution of said order should not be ordered as provided in said motion by the state of Indiana."

Case Started in 1925.
The charge of contempt of court against Shumaker was filed by Gilliom and was based on statements made by Shumaker in 1925 regarding the Indiana edition of the American league magazine.

Justice Martin, together with Justice G. S. Gammill, dissented from the majority in convicting and punishing Shumaker and in most of the legal battle continued as the

STUDENT WHO SHOT HAZER IS ARRESTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 22.—(AP)—Ollie Westbrook, student in pharmacy at Howard college here, tonight faced a charge of first degree manslaughter, following his confession to police that he fatally wounded Montress Freeman, Birmingham Southern freshman, and his fellow townsman, in a drug store last night.

Coroner J. D. Ruzum of Jefferson county returned his verdict late today after questioning several witnesses. Westbrook was released tonight in $2,500 bond. He will attend the funeral of the youth he shot.

H. A. Nelson of Birmingham testified that Westbrook snapped a revolver once while pointed at the feet of the 230 pound freshman before sending a bullet through Freeman's chest when the latter advanced toward him threatening to shave Westbrook's head.

Head shaving frequently has been employed in the intense rivalry between students of the colleges which has come to be traditional in Birmingham, prior to their annual football game.

Meanwhile authorities of the two institutions and officials of the Birmingham American Legion went forward with plans for the twentieth annual football game here Saturday.

Earlier in the day permits issued to the two student bodies for a parade Saturday morning were revoked. Motorcycle patrols were assigned to each campus.

A minority of two against their three colleagues. Judge Martin, in his dissenting opinion today said the sheriff and made a return on the original judgment showing the court's sentence had been executed. He also argued that Ralph Howard, as superintendent of the state farm, is the proper respondent. If the court believes the pardon was not effective and valid."

VICTIM'S ILLNESS MAY WIN LIBERTY FOR FRANK EGAN

Mother Fears Trial Ordeal
Would Kill Girl.

CRIMINAL COURT.

William Kelly, lawyer, advised to one to twenty years in the penitentiary; Henry Edmunds, murder, sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary by Judge Thomas J. Lynch.

Frank Egan, youthful rapist, whose life imprisonment sentence was wiped out by a Supreme court reversal of its own original decision, may soon walk the streets free and unpunished, according to an announcement made yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney Charles Dougherty.

The prosecutor received word through a social worker that the mother of Betty Pierson, 21 year old victim of Egan, would not allow her daughter to undergo the ordeal of a new trial. The girl was crippled for life by Egan's attack the testimony showed at the trial. She suffered from St. Vitus' dance and creeping paralysis as a result of the assault.

Fears Ordeal Might Be Fatal.
"My daughter collapsed as a result of the ordeal of the first trial and I do not believe she should be asked to go through the same thing again," was the message of the mother. "I am afraid a second ordeal may result fatally for her."

The prosecutor announced that he would have the mother brought to his office today and attempt to get her to change her attitude.

Egan lured Miss Pierson to an apartment he maintained at 6246 South Park avenue on Sunday, May 19, 1926, and attacked her. The case was not tried until months later because of the girl's condition. The jury, after hearing the evidence, fixed a life sentence, the maximum under the law for Egan.

The case was appealed to the Supreme court, which affirmed the conviction and in an opinion said: "If the testimony for the prosecution is true, the testimony for the defense is false; if the testimony for the defense is true, the acts charged did not occur at all."

Court Reverses Itself.
The Supreme court in the original decision refused to reverse the case because of the refusal of the trial judge to give certain instructions favoring the defense. On this subject the court said about the instructions refused: "It is not a statement of a proposition of law and it was properly refused."

The second opinion, in which the court reversed its original findings and ordered a new trial, said: "A defendant is entitled to have the jury instructed as to the law applicable to any state of facts which the jury might legitimately find from the evidence."

For the errors above indicated the judgment of the Criminal court is reversed and the cause remanded."

LITZINGER FACES TRIAL FOR MAIL ROBBERY, MURDER

Pleads Not Guilty in Evergreen Park Case.

Virgil Litzinger, debonair young gangster who started local officialdom on Wednesday by calmly surrendering to federal authorities, found himself awaiting trial yesterday for two major offenses.

Litzinger must face a jury in the court of Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson for alleged participation in the $133,000 Evergreen Park mail robbery last February, and, presumably, after the government is through with him, he must face a jury in the criminal courts for the murder of Clarence Glynn, saloonkeeper, more than two years ago.

Pleads Not Guilty Plea.
Final legal action in preparation for both trials was taken yesterday. In the morning Litzinger, still wearing his sporty light gray "alibi" overcoat, was arraigned before Judge Wilkerson, where he pleaded not guilty in the mail robbery case and modestly informed the court that he wanted "the expeditious trial your honor can give me." The court promised to do what he could, but informed the defendant that the case probably will not be called until after the holidays. While Litzinger was being led by federal marshals back to the county jail, where he is held under $100,000 bonds, Assistant State's Attorney Edw. J. Spiro was presenting testimony upon which the grand jury named Litzinger in a true bill as the slayer of Glynn.

Claims Sojourn Abroad.
But the day's proceedings failed to eradicate the confident smile with which Litzinger on Wednesday greeted postal inspectors whom he met by appointment at a loop hotel to give himself up. He still maintains that he has been sojourning abroad for the last three years, pointing to his "alibi" overcoat with its English maker's label as proof, and contends he knew naught of the various crimes with which he is charged until he returned home several days ago.

Daniel Scully and Art G. Ganslin, 2801 West 34th street, accused Litzinger in the Glynn murder before the grand jury. J. V. Bertrand, 2513 West 34th street, waiting to corroborate the testimony of Scully and Ganslin, was not called to the stand. Scully said Litzinger entered Glynn's saloon, gun in hand, and shot Glynn twice as the latter sat playing cards. Then Litzinger, Scully said, remarked to the others present "I don't want to hurt you guys" and pocketed his gun and walked out.

BAKERY OFFICE IS ROBBED.
Three armed men entered the office of the Gordon Baking company, 5324 Federal street, yesterday, found the cashier, A. Wilshe, 10509 South Leavitt street, alone in the place, and took $200 from the till.

SUSPECT'S AGED FATHER CALLED IN STULTS CASE

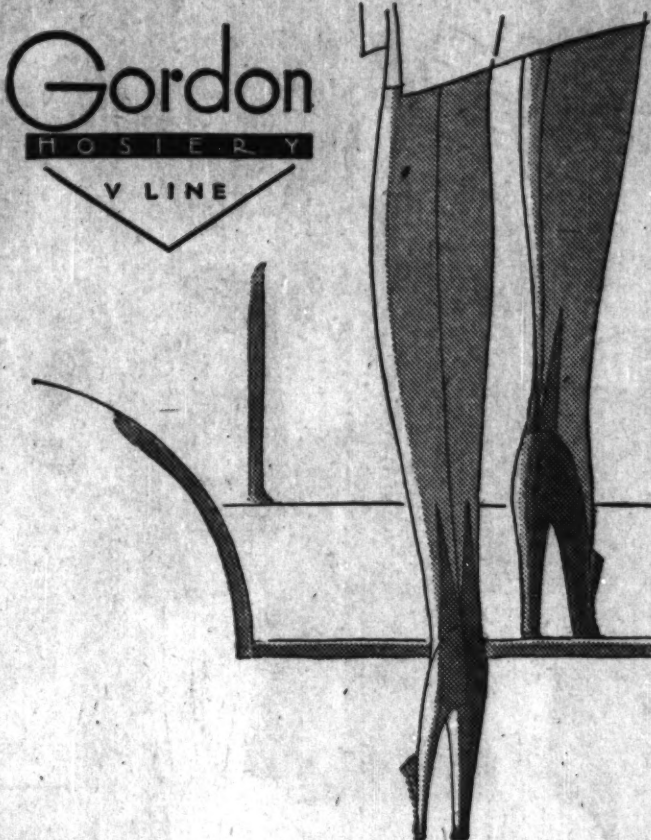

Elkhart, Ind., Nov. 22.—[Special.]—John Reyer, 51 year old father of Charles L. Reyer, was summoned before the Superior court grand jury here today as one of the final witnesses in the investigation of the "fifty dollar murder" of pretty Genevieve Stults, Mishawaka beauty parlor owner, whose body was found near here March 24.

According to a story related by Mrs. Sachowski, mother of the slain woman and a witness before the grand jury Wednesday, the younger Reyer conspired to force Mrs. Stults to wed his aged father in order that his affair with her might be concealed.

Last March, about three weeks before Mrs. Stults' disappearance in an automobile with a mysterious stranger, Charles Reyer brought his father to her apartment and informed her that the aged man was to live in her apartment. After Mrs. Stults' disappearance the elder Reyer lived there for three days, until forced to move out by Mrs. Joseph Bartoszek, a sister of the murdered woman, it is said.

BUNDESEN TELLS ALDERMEN HOW TO CURB SMOKE

Prosecute Violators, His Word to Committee.

Abolition of Chicago's smoke pall can be accomplished only by a vigorous and tireless campaign of education, backed up by the prosecution of flagrant offenders, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, former health commissioner and coroner elect, told Ald. Thomas Byrne's council smoke abatement committee yesterday.

The aldermen are considering the creation of a new, independent anti-smoke department, removing the work from the supervision of George E. Nye, chief boiler inspector, under whom it has lagged.

Before the smoke forces were transferred to Mr. Nye they were under Dr. Bundesen, who brought them up to full strength and carried on an effective crusade. The subcommittee called in Dr. Bundesen, among others, to explain his methods and views.

How Bundesen Worked It.
"During my six years as health commissioner, we tried out several plans," he said. "The best was that in effect when the force was removed. We had 25 smoke engineers and several inspectors, all under Frank A. Chambers, deputy smoke inspector. We cooperated actively with a citizens' committee and called on the law department to prosecute cases whenever necessary."

Mr. Nye has decreased the Bundesen force to five men, has refused to cooperate with the citizens' committee, and abandoned enforcement of the smoke ordinance, it was pointed out.

"It is needless for me to tell you gentlemen how vital is the effect of smoke on public health," Dr. Bundesen continued. "Three factors govern the city's health: safe water, safe food, and safe air. We have safe water and food but our air is badly polluted. Each winter sees a pall of soot and cinders spread over the city, shutting off the ultra-violet sun rays and causing a sharp increase in the death rate. Elimination of smoke is distinctly a municipal duty."

Prize Work of Chambers.

The former commissioner described Mr. Chambers as "an outstanding engineer in smoke abatement work" and credited the success of his own campaign to the fact that Chambers was given a free hand. Chambers now is a subordinate to Mr. Nye, who has restricted his activity.

Howard W. Evans, chairman of the defunct citizens' committee, also testified before the committee, commending the independent department plan.

"You can stop smoke in Chicago," he declared. "If you will put the job in competent hands. You've got a good prohibitory ordinance but no attention is being paid to it. My advice is to take the work out of politics, put it in a new department, increase the force, and renew the campaign started by Dr. Bundesen."

"What's the matter with your committee?" asked Ald. E. L. Frankhauser (49th). "Why isn't it functioning?"

"Our help isn't wanted," Evans replied. "Mr. Nye told me he didn't intend to enforce the smoke ordinance and didn't need us."

Others who spoke at the hearing included William A. Bell, vice president of the Operating Engineers' union, and Walter Scott, chairman of the railroad smoke abatement board. Both agreed with the previous speakers that the committee is on the right track in planning to revive the smoke campaign through a separate department. Bell promised the cooperation of the engineers' group and Scott that of the railroad. Several other railroad engineers were present.

Interest in the activity of the aldermanic group was evidenced yesterday by the turnout of a crowd filling the committee room. Members of the subcommittee are Ald. Byrne, Frankhauser, and E. J. Kaindl (37th). Other councilmen participating were Leonard J. Grossman (6th), sponsor of the ordinance under consideration; John

A. Chapman (40th), and Frank A. Sloan (26th).

At its next meeting, Friday, Nov. 30 at 2 p. m., the subcommittee has invited representatives of fifteen civic and business organizations. At the subsequent meeting it is planned to act on the ordinance and report it back to the finance committee. Corporation Counsel Ettelson announced yesterday that he would assign an assistant to aid the subcommittee.

How tall is your child? What does he weigh?

"Bottled Sunshine will help him grow and gain," physicians say

Of course you watch your child's height and weight. You know whether he is lacking in vitality and endurance. So many children tire so easily during growing years.

For under par children physicians are advising a health-builder long known for its power to renew vitality and to increase general resistance to certain infections.

Authorities find that Bottled Sunshine—good cod-liver oil—helps to bring the under-weight child up to normal weight. It gives him new vitality; puts the ruddy color of health into his cheeks.

Bottled Sunshine does this because it is so rich in two essential vitamins—Vitamin D, the "sunshine vitamin" of which children get so little in these modern days of indoor living, and Vitamin A which promotes normal growth and nutrition and increases resistance to many infections.

When they prescribe cod-liver oil, thousands of physicians specify "Squibb's," because it is vitamin-tested and guaranteed as to its content of the health-protecting vitamins A and D.

Ask your physician about Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil to help your child grow and gain weight as he should. Squibb has a new mint-flavored cod-liver oil which will appeal to the older children especially. You can get it, as well as Squibb's Plain Cod-Liver Oil at all good drug stores.

Paris itself was amazed when shown this fascinating black suede shoe. Surely no combination more becomes a shapely foot on crisp November days. The suede in this new PEDRO style is very soft, glove like in its comfort and luxuriously trimmed with a black patent leather band. And how graceful is its arch and heel.

Like most Newark styles this is a faithful reproduction—exclusive with us in America—of an expensive hand-made Paris shoe. It is priced at $4.00 only because Newark shoes are made in our own factories, and sold through our own stores, with no in-between profits.

U. S. TOO DRY, TOO MANY GUNS —TRADER HORN

78 Year Old Raconteur
Back in South Africa.

BY TRADER HORN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Nov. 22.—I suppose I ought to be glad to be back in South Africa. Well, I'm just as glad as any man with the wanderlust. All countries are the same to me, more or less. The world is big enough to live in anywhere. I have traveled a good many miles since last Christmas. I have been to England and America, and I enjoyed my trip. I liked both countries, but after all, as I am a natural born traveler, what preference can I have? I just take the rough with the smooth. All that I can say of England is that I don't think it will ever come abreast of America again. Yet I liked England, for it is there that my home used to be, and a man has just got to like the country where he rightly belongs.

United States Too Speedy.
I was well received in New York. I must confess it came as a great surprise to me to see how America has advanced since I was there 35 years ago. Everything is new and splendid. The skyscrapers were terrific. I went to the top of the Woolworth building. Those heights make a man feel very small.

There was too much traffic, and I fear the Americans live at too high a speed. And the growth of population is such that you can hardly go a mile without finding the road torn up for something or other.

Machine Gun Bandits.

The American policemen are fine, so polite and courteous. But what makes life so formidable over there is that at each street corner there is a man with a machine gun—I think they call it a Gatling gun. What with all these bandits they are ready for war all the time.

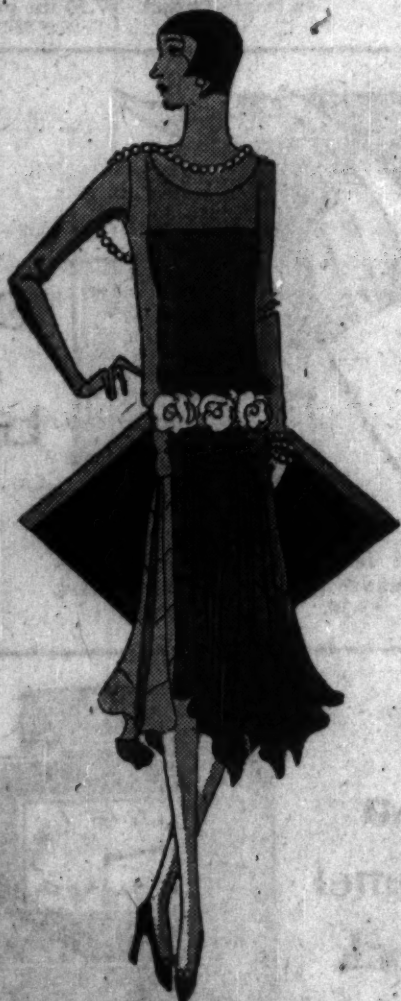

The police are nice and polite, but they don't stand much nonsense from anybody. It takes a pretty deep slice out of your liberty to know that if you possess a ten dollar bill you may have a gang of desperadoes after you. And these American newspaper men spin some tall yarns. Some one is always being murdered or doing the killing. Safes are extracted from strong rooms with ridiculous ease, and 40 story buildings robbed without trouble. At least, that is what they say. I think the thing that impressed me most in America was the New York stock exchange.

Nothing to Drink.

The best trip I had was to Washington Irving's country, where I saw Rip Van Winkle's Sleepy Hollow. When I got to Sleepy Hollow it began to snow. It was darn cold and there was a complete absence of drink—something to make you warm.
If old Rip Van Winkle slept there for twenty years and did not have a drink he must have been chilly. There was the old Hudson rolling along, the cold breeze, and the Hollow peopled with the shades of all the ghosts of the past. Somehow I did not feel too happy. I suppose it was for the simple reason that I could not get a drink.

England has at least that advantage. One can get a drink—at certain times.

LABOR LEADERS PRAISE HOOVER'S 'LEAN DAYS' FUND

New Orleans, La., Nov. 22.—[Special.]—Several of the governors attending the annual meeting of state executives here, and leaders of the American Federation of Labor, also in session, expressed general approval today of President-elect Hoover's plan of stabilizing employment by means of a three billion dollar fund to be employed on construction work in slack times.
According to Gov. Brewster of Maine, who presented the idea, several of the visiting governors endorsed his program in principle. Gov. Spaulding of New Hampshire said that the program seemed sound, but there was nothing that could be done in his state to minimize unemployment except road building.
The wage and employment program was discussed informally by union labor delegates. William Green, president of the federation, said: "It is the first definite movement to systematize wages and employment."

John Donlin, former president of the building trades department, stated: "It would be a fine time to start something now, for there are many idle."

Secretary of Grocery House Robbed of $5,500 Pay Roll

Harry Hanson, 640 Oakdale avenue, secretary of Franklin MacVeach & Co., wholesale grocers, was robbed of a $5,500 pay roll yesterday by two bandits who seized him as he was returning to the company's offices at 222 West Lake street. Hanson had just drawn the money from the Commercial and Commercial National bank. One of the men pressed a pistol against him as he was walking in Lake street and ordered him into an automobile at the curb. The second bandit was at the wheel. They drove south and west and the man with Hanson ordered him to hand over the package containing the money. Hanson complied, and was released at Carroll and Hoyne avenues.

New Type Rimless Glasses Win Majority of Men

A revolution in eyeglass design has taken place within five years—a great improvement. Now old conspicuous shell-rimmed glasses are taboo, except for reading at home and sports wear.

Rimless styles, unobtrusive, feature fitting, youth enhancing, have supplanted them. The Puritan, the Colonial, the Oval and Leaf shapes, with white gold mountings, now are favorites. And being rimless they do not attract attention to themselves. Hence good taste prefers them. Graceful and symmetrical of design, they are always dignified, good-looking.

See if you don't find them more becoming. You may choose from more than twenty styles in any of the Almer Coe Stores.

THREAT TO RES STIRS EVOLUT ROW OF BAPTIS

College Head Refus
Surrender Opinion

Fayetteville, Ark., Nov. 22.—[Special.]—Declaring that he would not alter his views on the evolution, Dr. Charles H. Johnson, president of the Arkansas Baptist convention here, today announced his resignation from the convention.

Dr. Johnson was indignant at the action of the convention last night should be interpreted as a renunciation of his position. He also declared that he was not a member of the convention. In Arkansas is "unfortunate" and that in sign of his resignation he committed himself to the belief that "man descended from anthropoid apes."

Makes His Position Clear.
Dr. Johnson went before the board of trustees of the convention last night to make his position clear. He said that he was not a member of the convention because his signing of the statement had been misconstrued. Throughout the convention, church leaders believed that Dr. Johnson was taking part in the "evolution fight" from the convention. Leaders say that if the statement on the floor it will be taken off the convention.

Published as Smith Supp.
The fight over the anti-evolution came when leaders of the convention declared that the Dr. Johnson, which came about as a result of his championing of Gov. Smith in the presidential campaign, might be prevented from being the center of a storm which would be sure to mean the end of Dr. Johnson and the convention.

WILL HOLD ATHEIST R.
Charles Smith, atheist, made arrangements to hold a meeting Tuesday night in the hall of Ashland Boulevard at 11 South Ashland boulevard. In his campaign against "evolution," Smith recently was beaten in Little Rock, Ark., in a protest against the Arkansas bill to prevent the teaching of evolution in the schools. The object of which is to prevent the teaching of evolution in the schools. Richard J. Cooney, Chicago, will be chairman.

THREAT TO RESIGN STIRS EVOLUTION ROW OF BAPTISTS

College Head Refuses to Surrender Opinions.

Arkansas, Ark., Nov. 22.—[Special.]—Declaring that he would resign his position as head of Central college before he would alter his views on the theory of evolution, Dr. Charles H. Brough, president of the Arkansas Baptist convention here today, said church leaders believe will result in his resignation either before the convention ends or within a few days.

Brough was indignant that his resignation last night should be interpreted as a renunciation of his belief in the theistic form of evolution. He declared that he believes the passage of the anti-evolution law in Arkansas is "unfortunate at this time" and that in signing the pledge he committed himself to the belief that "man is not descended from anthropoid ape."

Makes His Position Clear.
Brough went before the Central college board of trustees this morning to make his position clear on evolution. He said he was signing the pledge because he had been misinterpreted, he declared. Throughout the afternoon church leaders waged a fight behind closed doors in efforts to keep the evolution fight "from the convention floor." Leaders say that if the matter comes on the floor it will "mean the end" of the college president.

Punished as Smith Supporter.
The fight over the anti-evolution law came when leaders had convened themselves that the fight on evolution, which came about as a result of his championing the cause of Gov. Smith in the presidential campaign, might be prevented from becoming the center of a storm which many regarded as sure to mean "discipline" of Dr. Brough and others involved in the controversy.

WILL HOLD ATHEIST RALLY.
Charles Smith, atheist, yesterday made arrangements to hold a mass meeting Tuesday night in the west hall of Ashland boulevard auditorium, 25 South Ashland boulevard, as a way in his campaign against "intolerance." Smith recently went on a campaign in Little Rock, Ark., in protest against the Arkansas law prohibiting an atheist to testify in court, following his conviction for "spreading literature tending to incite riot." The meeting will be held under direction of the American Anti-Secular union, the object of which is to maintain the separation of church and state. Richard J. Cooney, Chicago attorney, will be chairman.

INDIANS

BERLIN.—(AP)—Walter Stoetner and Fritz Meiser, head of a German scientific expedition exploring in northern Manchuria, have sent word that they have discovered that the Tungus tribes in the region are allied to the North American Indians and do not belong to the yellow races.

The expedition has been in a hitherto unexplored region in the bend of the Amur river for more than a year. It has found the land is so fertile that it may in time become a granary for distant Europe.

The explorers compiled a grammar of hitherto unknown languages. They also made a valuable collection of rare shamanist vestments and other native objects for the Dresden ethnological museum. The shamans are medicine men or witch doctors of the tribes of the region.

Mississippians to Honor Smith at Reception Today

The governor expressed deep feeling over the rousing Confederate greeting given him and his party on the morning's visit to Beauvoir, the Confederate soldiers' rest and formerly the home of Jefferson Davis.

W. K. Kellogg Says:

"For launching a new product or for spurring an established one, use the Chicago Tribune"

"When we planned to promote Kaffee Hag Coffee and Rice Krispies our previous experience led us to rely on the Tribune," says W. K. Kellogg, who spends 34% more in the Tribune than in all other Chicago newspapers combined

HERE is the Chicago market verdict of one of the largest food manufacturers in the world. Recently Kellogg Company purchased the business of the Kaffee Hag Corporation. Almost coincident with this expansion came the decision to launch a new product... Rice Krispies.

Here were two products, one to be established and one to be spurred to greater sales. How did this experienced advertiser decide to promote their sale in Chicago?

Backed exclusively by Tribune advertising in Chicago, sales on these two Kellogg products soared in Chicago and in Zone 7.

Kellogg adds this chapter to a story of success which began more than 20 years ago, when he invested half his available capital in advertising. In this latest chapter, as in all the earlier ones, we find the same policy concerning his Chicago advertising: ever-increasing use of the Tribune.

In a letter dated October 23, 1926, Mr. Kellogg wrote to the Tribune:

"As you will recall, some twelve or fifteen years ago, we used your newspaper with only a very few others. The result of this intensive use of the newspapers as compared with other advertising programs, justified broadening this plan until we now are using well over 1500 newspapers in every section of the country."

Kellogg spends more money in newspaper advertising than any other food manufacturer in the world.

And the Tribune receives more of Kellogg's

Kellogg COMPANY
BATTLE CREEK, MICH.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
The Chicago Tribune
Chicago, Illinois.
Gentlemen:

When we planned our campaign to promote Kaffee Hag Coffee and our latest product - Rice Krispies - our experience in advertising our other products led us to rely upon the Tribune.

We have every confidence in the wisdom of this decision, because throughout the years we have been advertising in the Chicago market, we have always found your dominating Chicago coverage, combined with your strong circulation in the trade centers of the surrounding territory, the most efficient and economical advertising force obtainable for our products.

Since the first of the year, we have sent you contracts for the advertising of five major Kellogg products, including Kellogg's Corn Flakes, All-Bran, Pep Bran Flakes, and the two above mentioned products.

Our sales in the Chicago market on all of the Kellogg cereals have been steadily increasing and we feel sure the Tribune has been a most important factor in this success. The Chicago Tribune has, to our knowledge, been on every schedule released in the Chicago market since this business was founded.

We desire also to thank you for the merchandising support which you have so cheerfully extended to us. We know it has been most helpful in making our work with the trade much easier and more effective. We know also that food product distributors have the highest regard for Tribune advertising.

I, personally, have been a reader of the Tribune for more than thirty-five years. It is my household paper.

Very truly yours,
W. K. Kellogg

"Help yourself to health"

appropriation than any other newspaper in the world.

In the Chicago field, not only is the Tribune being used exclusively for Kaffee Hag Coffee, but during the first ten months of 1928 the Tribune received 34% more of Kellogg's advertising dollars than all other Chicago newspapers combined.

After decades of experience in advertising, this surely may be regarded as the sound judgment of an advertiser who is qualified to know the facts. And the unmistakable fact in the Chicago market, the fact upon which this seasoned advertiser stakes his advertising dollars, is this: For launching a new product or for spurring the sale of an established one, use the Chicago Tribune.

60 Suspects Arrested
None Identified.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 22.—(AP)—The Negro hatchet murderer who plunged the city into a reign of terror as a result of his attacks on whites, in which three persons were killed and two others wounded, still was at large today. Police admitted they had no clue to the killer's identity. The one big hope of the police was that the murderer would be spotted this afternoon when Harold Strubling, who was arrested yesterday morning, declared the murderer was not the man who lived at home.

When shown photographs of the suspect in Chicago she insisted Negro who backed her husband, who was a much younger man, his general features were not as those of the suspect. A search was made of the suspect's name as did the police.

One Victim May Recover
Harold Strubling, who suffered fractures of the skull when the murderer hit him and his wife, was reported better today, though still unconscious. Doctors here stronger hopes for his recovery. All Wednesday night, close watch was kept over every district, but the only attack reported was by a Negro who tried to stop his car when he stopped on the gas line, threw an ax at him. The ax went in his car. The description tallied with that of the murderer.

Police Up in the Air
Chief Danbaum declared the murderer was "up in the air" and do not know where to start in an effort to trail the Negro. He is complaining that they cannot venture out without being arrested. A young Negro, today, who held position, was arrested for time since the murder.

More than 60 suspects have been viewed by Mrs. Strubling since Sunday. Some have been viewed by Mrs. Strubling since Sunday. Some have been viewed by Mrs. Strubling since Sunday. Some have been viewed by Mrs. Strubling since Sunday.

Hunt Hatchet Slayer in Leavenworth, Kas.
John Glynn, chief of police here, has searched since today for a young Negro as the description of the Omaha murderer. Chief Glynn was on his way to Leavenworth, Kas., where he had left the train at Leavenworth, although he had a Leavenworth. He told the police probably would be waiting in Leavenworth.

NOT HATCHET SLAY

OMAHA HATCHET MURDERER STILL ELUDES POLICE

Suspects Arrested; None Identified.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 22.—[Special.]—A Negro hatchet murderer who has been the city into a reign of terror as a result of his attacks on Omaha residents, in which three persons were killed, still was at large tonight and police admitted they have no leads as to the killer's identity.

The one big hope of the police was that this afternoon when Mrs. Harold Stribling, who was attacked Monday morning, declared the Negro who attacked her Wednesday as the murderer, was not the man who entered her home.

When shown photographs of the suspect in Chicago she insisted the man who hacked her husband and attacked her, was a much younger man, his general features were different and that the slayer did not have a mustache as did the suspect.

One Victim May Recover.

Harold Stribling, who suffered five fractures of the skull when the Negro attacked him and his wife as they were reported better today, although still unconscious. Doctors now have stronger hopes for his recovery.

All Wednesday night, close watch was kept over every district of the city, but the only attack reported was when police by Frank Spiker, who said a Negro tried to stop his car, and when he stepped on the gas the Negro drove as at him. The ax made a dent in his car. The description he gave tallied with that of the murderer.

Police Up in the Air.

Chief Danbaum declared the police were just "up in the air" over the attacks and do not know where to start in an effort to trail the killer. He is complaining to police that they cannot venture into the street without being arrested. One young Negro, today, who holds a good position, was arrested for his fifth time since the murder.

More than 60 suspects have been arrested since Sunday. Some of these have been viewed by Mrs. Stribling, as she said none was the man who attacked her.

The police are patrolling the streets night as usual. Rewards totaling $100 have been offered, and if he is killed again, the state has decided to offer an additional $500.

Hatchet Slayer in Kansas.

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 22.—[AP.]—John Glynn, chief of police here, with six officers, has searched since early today for a young Negro answering the description of the Omaha ax murderer. Chief Glynn was notified by Missouri Pacific trainmen that a Negro had left the train at Leavenworth tonight, although he had a ticket to Leavenworth. He told the brakeman who probably would be waiting for him in Leavenworth.

NOT HATCHET SLAYER.

Edmond Ballard, 26, Negro, who was beaten with his own handax in a battle with a Chicago fireman and was wanted for a time Wednesday as a suspect in the hatchet murder of three persons in Omaha, has no connection with these killings, the police announced last night. Ballard, who first was known as Gonsalves, is wanted in Illinois, Ill., for the murder of Fannie Jones, the police said, and will be held for further investigation in that case.

CHILD NOT KIN'S SON; LOSES RIGHT TO BOYER RICHES

Wife Admits Faking Birth of Boy.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 22.—[AP.]—Under a Circuit court decision today, 5-year-old Dede Alfred Boyer no longer is an heir to the millions of Joseph A. Boyer, chairman of the board of the Burroughs Adding Machine company, who until less than a year ago believed the child to be his grandson.

Judge Arthur Webster ruled following a hearing in the case that Dede was only the adopted son of Mrs. Laura M. Boyer, daughter-in-law of the adding machine manufacturer, and child to her husband, Myron L. Boyer, as his son.

The court voided the birth certificate of the boy as Joseph A. Boyer III, and decreed that he is not entitled to benefits of a $3,500,000 trust fund created by the multi-millionaire manufacturer for his son and grandson.

This action ended almost a year of litigation over the legal status of Dede's heritage, following disclosures that he was born the son of an unwed Canadian girl in a Windsor, Ont., hotel in November, 1921, given by his mother to Mrs. Boyer and smuggled into the Boyer home here.

On the witness stand today Mrs. Boyer readily admitted the deception. She said it was carried out with the aid of a doctor and a nurse and that her purpose was to fulfill her husband's desire for a child. The Boyers separated about two years ago. There has been no divorce.

The suits heard today were brought by Myron L. Boyer when he learned the child was not his own.

MAYOR'S ARREST PROVES A FARCE OF GIVE AND TAKE

New York, Nov. 22.—[Special.]—

Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City was arrested this afternoon.

The arrest of the mayor, wanted for contempt for refusing to respond to a subpoena issued in a legislative inquiry, was a plain case of give and take.

First, they handed Hague a warrant announcing he was under arrest. Then the mayor's lawyer handed the other side a writ of habeas corpus, and the mayor wasn't under arrest.

Immediately afterward, every one, jovial and happy, adjourned into the chancellor's court, where the writ was argued. After a thirty minute wrangle the hearing was adjourned till Saturday.

Last night process servers and police played hide and seek in Hague's apartment during the late hours, and the law arrested the law. The process servers, Sergeant-at-Arms Garrison of the state senate and Emil Schumann, a deputy superintendent of elections, were the ones arrested. Mrs. Hague called the Jersey City police when they entered her home.

They were released later, and after being watched by detectives through breakfast at a hotel this morning, went away with police officials, and returned later to arrest the mayor in the office of his lawyer.

The legislature, which is Republican, is trying to force Mayor Hague, the Democratic boss of Hudson county, to appear before the case committee and answer all questions concerning political affairs over which he holds sway.

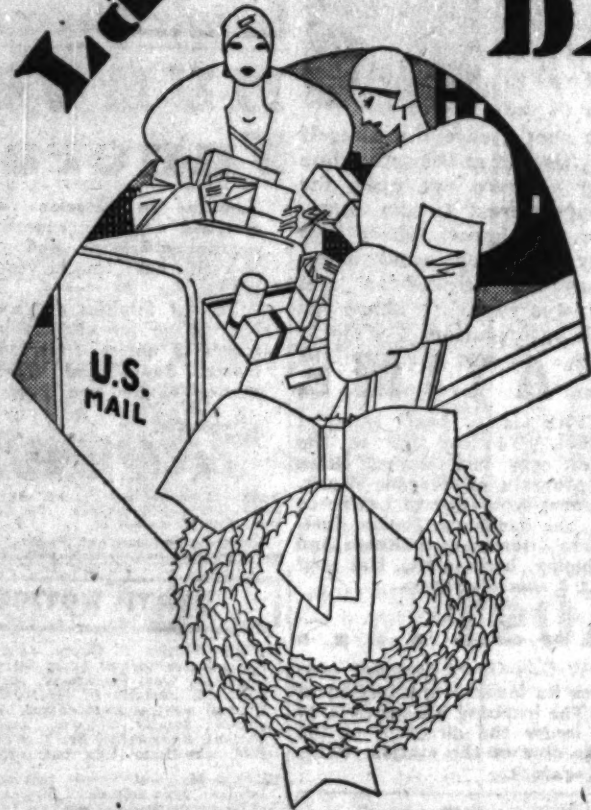

Foreman Killed Showing How Employee Was Hurt

On Monday Peter Martinis, 1439 West Roosevelt road, caught his arm in a scolding machine while he was at work in the Olson Rug company plant at 1800 West Monroe street. A little later his foreman, Louis Wihlhal, 45 years old, 3404 North St. Louis avenue, was demonstrating to an executive of the concern how the accident occurred. His arm was caught, too. Both men were taken to the Jefferson Park hospital. Martinis, almost completely recovered, is ready to go home, but Wihlhal died yesterday.

PRESTON KUMLER CRASH VICTIM; FUNERAL TODAY

Last Rites for Lawyer in Washington.

Funeral services for Preston Kumler, lawyer of Chicago and Washington, and an official of the state department, will be held today at the Washington home of Edward B. Burling, former general counsel for the United States shipping board.

The pall bearers will be Judge Thomas Swan of New York, William H. Hale and Frederick Preston, both of Chicago; Walter Bruce Howe, William Hard, Mr. Burling, Henry Carter, and Capt. Miles A. Cole, all of Washington. After the services Mr. Kumler's body will be taken to Evansville, Ind., his birthplace, for interment Saturday afternoon. Judge Swan and Mr. Hale will accompany the body.

Mr. Kumler, who was prominent socially both in Chicago and in Washington, was killed in an automobile accident on Wednesday night while returning to the Washington home of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, newly elected representative at large from Illinois, where he was to have been a dinner guest. His car collided with another, driven by J. A. Royston of Oakland, Va., and Mr. Kumler was thrown from his automobile, striking his head on a curb.

Was U. S. Investigator.

The lawyer, formerly engaged in a general practice in Chicago, was since 1922 in charge of the state department's investigations of communistic activities in the United States. He was appointed to this position after serving a year in the Hoover Russian relief expedition.

Mr. Kumler was born on Dec. 5, 1877, at Evansville, Ind. After completing his schooling at Yale and the Harvard law school, he started his law practice in Chicago in 1904 with the firm of Bentley & Burling, which later became Bentley, Burling, Swan & Kumler. Mr. Kumler was a cousin of former Judge Kenneth M. Landis.

He was secretary of the Municipal Voters League in 1914 and 1915, was a member of the executive committee of the Illinois anti-Cook county civil service reform association, and at one time was chairman of the City club's committee on political nominations and elections.

In 1917, Mr. Kumler entered the first officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan and was promoted to captain. He commanded a company of the 343d Infantry in France and left the military service with the rank of major.

LEGION ASKS BAN ON HARDBOILED BOYS AT SCHOOL

A recommendation that state officials and Cook county judges discontinue the practice of committing hardened criminals to the St. Charles School for Boys unless such sentence is recommended by the state criminologist, is contained in a report released yesterday by the Kane county central committee of the American Legion. The report was presented at Aurora Wednesday after a thorough investigation of the school had been made by a special committee of Kane county legionnaires.

The report stated that many boys are now being sent to the school without an examination of their previous records, and pointed out that of 725 boys committed to the institution, 151 are criminals, 16 are boys who are convicted of crimes ranging from immorality to automobile thefts and robberies with a gun.

Eighty men, residents of Geneva and St. Charles, were sworn in at the Geneva city hall last night as members of the new auxiliary police force organized to combat robberies and attacks on townpeople by escaped inmates of the school. The new police force was organized following an attack on Mrs. Richard Hunter of Geneva recently by a school boy who had escaped from the school. Members of the auxiliary force will be notified of escapes from the school by blowing of a fire siren or a factory whistle.

CO-OPS ARE URGED ON CONGRESS AS AID TO FARMERS

Farm Convention Calls for Tariff, Too.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 22.—(AP)—The cooperative agency as a means of solving the "farm problem" was commended to congress today by the Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union of America in the final session of its annual convention as a basis on which to work in the designing of any relief legislation.

The convention resolved that congress should effect legislation providing for the control of all contract grain markets, together with the supervision of all grain weighing, inspection, and laboratory testing, to come under the authority of the secretary of agriculture.

TARIFF, NOT FARM, CONGRESS WORRY, TILSON STATES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Tariff revision, rather than farm relief, will be the major concern of congress, in its extra session next spring, according to Representative John Q. Tilson (Rep., Conn.), Republican leader in the house. Substantial farm relief will be accomplished during the short session, Mr. Tilson predicted, by the passage of piecemeal legislation rather than by the adoption of any blanket "cure-all" program.

The house leader said there were a number of simple proposals, raising none of the controversial issues found in the McNary-Haugen bill, which can be passed during the short session.

Following a conference with President Coolidge today, Mr. Tilson declared that he is awaiting the return of Representative W. C. Hawley (Rep., Ore.), chairman of the house ways and means committee, to discuss plans for tariff revision.

McNary Drafts New Bill. Washington, D. C., Nov. 22.—(AP)—A resolution proposing that the proceeds from the sale of $4,000,000 worth of supplies to France during the world war should be used in building and repairing rural roads was adopted today by the National Grange.

Senator McNary of Oregon was drafting a new farm relief bill and hoped to introduce it at the beginning of the coming session.

ASPIRIN

You doubtless depend on Aspirin to make short work of headaches, but remember that it's just as dependable an antidote for many other pains! Neuralgia? Many have found real relief in a Bayer Aspirin tablet. Or for toothache; an effective way to relieve it, and the one thing doctors are willing you should give a child—of any age. Whether to break up a cold, or relieve the serious pain from neuritis or deep-seated rheumatism, there's nothing quite like Bayer Aspirin. Just make certain it's genuine; it must have Bayer on the box and on every tablet. All druggists, with proven directions.

STATE AT MADISON

ILLINI, BUBBLING WITH PEP, FINISH DRILL AT STADIUM

Retreat to Country Club After Workout.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Working out on the stadium field for the last time until they face Ohio State Saturday, the Illini showed no less in their pep and enthusiasm for the Buckeye battle with its championship possibilities.

Capt. Zupke took his men to the playing field for a final workout before they retreated to the Champaign Country Club, where they will take light practice tomorrow afternoon.

Ben Cracker, custodian of the sword, removed the field cover for the practice and predicted there will be a fine footing for the embattled athletes Saturday if the present weather continues.

Players in Condition.

Only dummy scrimmage and practice in receiving and covering punts occupied the Illini. Frosty Peters, Frank Walker and Mills were in good kicking form. Unless some unusual accident occurs, the Illini should face the Buckeyes in good physical condition, with the lineup which was so successful at Stagg field.

This calls for Stuessy and Hickman, ends; Nowack and Gordon, tackles; Crane and Wietz, guards; Richman, center; Peters, quarter back; Mills and Walker, half backs, and Humbert, full back.

People reports from Columbus that Eby might be at a disadvantage because of an injury in an automobile accident, the Illini, in their dummy scrimmage, were paying attention to Buckeye plays which feature this full back. Zupke regards Eby as one of the best running backs in the Big Ten.

Best of Reserve Backs.

If the first set of backs is removed, Chuck Hall seems to be the chief hope of the reserve string. Hall showed promise as a freshman two years ago, but was not a candidate last fall, although he appeared at spring practice. Early this season an injury benched him until the Chicago game when he made a long dodging run through nearly the entire Maroon team. Bodman, a big sophomore, heads the list of reserve full backs, and will relieve Humbert.

Interest in the encounter has been accelerated by the chance for a championship tangle, and the crowd may reach 35,000.

BAND ACCOMPANIES OHIO

Columbus, O., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The Ohio State university football team, accompanied by the university's 100 piece band, left tonight for Champaign, where the Buckeyes close their season against Illinois Saturday. Hundreds of students also accompanied the team, and more than 5,000 alumni and undergrads are expected to be at the game.

A huge student rally, climaxed by a mile long parade, sent the Buckeyes off to battle.

All this followed the Bucks' last workout on the stadium field. Signal drill, a light scrimmage and a "kick-off" drill comprised the workout.

The "last tackle" ceremony, an annual event for seniors on the Buckeye team, was held during practice. Dr. Wilce joined in the observance, for it was his last workout as the Buckeye leader on the stadium grounds.

Cubs to Spend 2 Extra Weeks on Training Tour—But Where?

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

More or less difficulty in connection with the spring exhibition games confronted the Chicago Cubs. Their problem is to make use of a lot of time in which they, apparently, have no place to go.

The majors last fall decided they would delay matters a bit and not open the 1929 races until April 16. They figured the few days of grace would increase the chances for favorable weather. Then the Pacific Coast leaguers, who never have to bother much about weather except rains that are dismissed as fog, went into a huddle and came up with the announcement that they'd open their next campaign a week earlier than usual.

Thus the Cubs will have to quit California on the third instead of the last week in March. They do not have to get back to Chicago until almost a week later than usual. That gives them almost two weeks more than they have been in the habit of spending between their final departure from California and their arrival home.

It is probable that at least a week of this excess time will be used up in a stop at Houston, Tex. The city boasts excellent hotel accommodations, has a ball park that answers all purposes, and weather, which usually is not enough to be acceptable. Four or five days may be devoted to out-and out training there, topped off by a Saturday and Sunday of exhibition to the Texas league team.

A stop at Phoenix, Ariz., also might be made for a couple of days. The Detroit Tigers will train there and no trouble will be encountered arranging games with them. The Tigers had intended to jump out to California from Phoenix for the purpose of meeting both the Cubs and Pirates at Los Angeles or San Francisco, but the early coast league opening may make this impossible.

A year ago the majors decided to frame up their schedules so as to adapt them at their December meetings, thus eliminating the customary February gatherings, but the idea was abandoned this winter on account of the Sunday baseball bill that passed in Massachusetts at the recent election. Now it is necessary for the city of Boston to exercise its option on the question and until this is done the majors will hold back on their date making for next season.

The National league must have a great quantity of business to dispose of, as President Heydler has asked the eight club representatives to be prepared for business in New York on Dec. 11, and possibly the morning of Dec. 12. On the afternoon of the latter day the magnates will hop a fast train for Chicago so as to be in time for the joint session to be held Dec. 12. The American league meeting is to occur here Dec. 12.

The New York Giants yesterday announced the unconditional release of Leslie Mann, 35 year old outfielder, who specialized in hitting left handed pitches. Mann was alternated with Melvin Ott in right field last season. He batted .370 in 75 games.

Big Ten Harriers Race for Title Tomorrow

Madison, Wis., Nov. 22.—Cross country teams of western conference schools will hold their annual meet here Saturday morning. Wisconsin, winner of the championship for four straight seasons and holder of nine titles since the first Big Ten game in 1905, will have four recruits in the lineup, according to Tom Jones, Badger coach. His team will include Capt. Burgess, Fink, Goldworthy, Wilson, Dille, and Folsom. Burgess and Fink are letter men.

Among the long distance runners who will compete are: Dave Abbott, Illinois; North and Anderson, Minnesota; Orval Martin, Purdue; Brady, Iowa; Wuerfel, Michigan; and Fields, Leas, and Clapham of Indiana.

California and Stanford Alumni to 'See' Game Here

Chicago alumni of California and Leland Stanford universities, whose annual football game is played Saturday at Berkeley, Cal., have installed a private wire from the field to the Allerton House, 701 North Michigan avenue, and will assemble there in the afternoon to get results of the game.

N. DAME TUNES UP FOR SCRAP WITH TROJANS

Trio of Regulars Out of Drill.

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—For the first time since they lost to Carnegie Tech, the Notre Dame gridders donned their uniforms this afternoon and began preparation for their final game of the season with the undefeated Southern California eleven at Los Angeles, Dec. 1.

Johnny Niemiec, John Law, and George Leppig, all first stringers, were the only men unable to work. Niemiec and Leppig were badly hurt in the clash with the Skibos, and the former spent the week-end in a South Bend hospital. Law is used up because of his hard playing against Army and Carnegie, and needs more rest than his mates.

The rehearsal today was devoted to the usual limbering up exercises and formation drills, with short dummy scrimmages for the first three teams against reserve eleven using Trojans' plays, to wind up the day. All of the regulars still are tired and went through the workout in a listless manner. A long drill Friday and a light one Saturday afternoon will be the preparations before the team departs Sunday for the coast.

DE PAUL U. LINE GETS HARD DRILL FOR LOYOLA TILT

Coach Eddie Anderson did not call it a day for his De Paul university gridders until darkness halted practice yesterday. The Blue Demons meet Loyola university's Ramblers at Soldiers' Field Dec. 1, their final game of the season.

The line men came in for the hardest defense and offense drills they have had this year. Coach Anderson followed this with a long scrimmage against the freshman team, during the course of which the varsity scored two touchdowns.

SPORTS CHIEFS OF BIG TEN WILL CONVENE DEC. 7-8

Drift Schedules, Discuss Rules Changes.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

With the curtain dropping on the Western conference football season tomorrow, faculty representatives of the Big Ten conference are making plans for the annual meeting to be held at the Hotel Sherman on Dec. 7 and 8.

Present plans call for the basketball coaches and officials to meet on Dec. 7 for a general discussion of the rules and to agree upon uniform interpretations. The football coaches will meet on Dec. 8 for a general discussion of the rules and to agree upon uniform interpretations.

The schedule has been drawn and the regular playing season will open in January. All teams, however, are permitted to engage in preliminary contests during the month. Members of some teams will forfeit their holiday vacations to remain at school to engage in intensive practice sessions.

Football coaches will meet on Dec. 8 for an informal discussion of the press season. Next year's schedule has been agreed upon, but the coaches are expected to have a few recommendations to make to the rules committee regarding certain formations.

Officials on High Plane.

The coaches undoubtedly will have a few things to say about the officials. According to Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics in the Western conference, the games have been well handled and few unfavorable reports have been made by the coaches. Maj. Griffith also asserted that feeling has existed between officials and coaches with the result that definite understandings on certain points were reached before the games opened.

Although no report is available, it is understood the attendance at most institutions broke all previous records. With the exception of last Saturday, when it rained hard, the weather was favorable and the stadiums were well filled.

Athletic Directors Convene.

Football coaches and those in charge of the track teams will gather on Dec. 8 to arrange schedules. Dates of the annual Illinois indoor relay carnival will be announced together with those of the Drake, Kansas and Ohio State outdoor relays. Coaches of the swimming and gymnastics teams also will draft their dates.

The athletic directors will meet on two days to discuss affairs of importance within the conference. Commissioner Griffith will meet with the coaches, who will bring up every aspect of sports in the association and upon certain points which will be held to their departments.

The faculty committee will meet on two days. The professors will award indoor and outdoor track and field championships, also the indoor swimming events.

Dates of the National Collegiate A. A. outdoor track and field championships also may be announced. Griffith, a member of the committee in charge of this event, said he is reasonably sure the championship will be held in Chicago early in 1929. Positive announcement of date and place will be made at the annual convention of the National Collegiate A. A. in New Orleans during the holidays.

William Ohio Coach?

During the meeting in Chicago next week, or shortly afterward, an announcement will be made that Sam Williams will succeed Dr. John W. White as football coach at Ohio State. White's resignation will take effect Dec. 1. According to reliable information, Williams has been chosen for the job.

Rockne Schedules
Too Many Games?
Asks Pitt for Aid

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 22.—[Special.]—K. K. Rockne has become engaged in somewhat of a schedule war for his 1929 Notre Dame football team and has come to the University of Pittsburgh for assistance in solving the problem.

Notre Dame, through the office of Rockne, scheduled Pitt for a game at South Bend on Oct. 26, 1929. This game was listed along with seven others given out by the Notre Dame publicity bureau yesterday. Carnegie Hall was not included. The Tartans were on the list, according to Tech, the game being scheduled for the Pitt stadium Nov. 23.

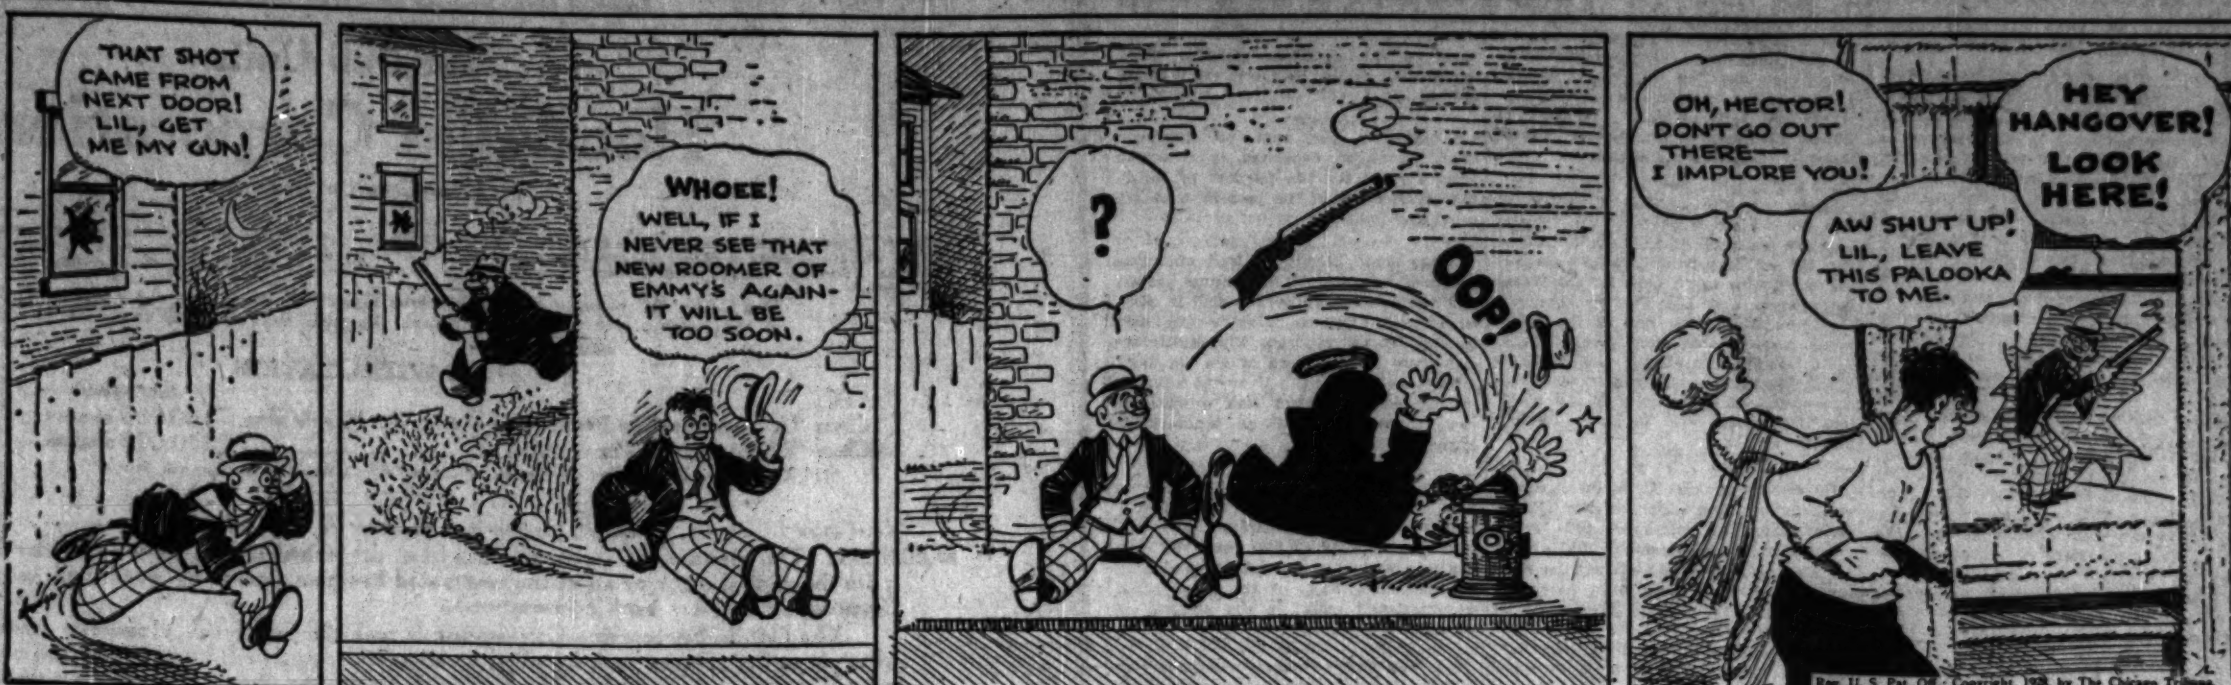

A statement from South Bend today says Rockne is admitting that Tech will be met next year, but says that the date has not as yet been settled. The contract, however, with Rockne's name at the bottom, gives Nov. 23 as the date.

According to word from an authoritative source here, Rockne called the Pitt authorities this morning and sought to be released from the contract for next year.

MOON MULLINS—CAUGHT WITH THE GOODS

Light Battles Gorilla Jones Here Tonight

Billy Light, St. Paul welterweight, and Gorilla Jones of Akron clash in the feature of Promoter James C. Mullen's boxing show at the Coliseum tonight. They will box ten rounds to a decision and weigh 150 pounds.

It will be Jones' first appearance here. The colored fighter from Ohio won a decision over Tommy Freeman and had the Cleveland boxer on the floor three times in the first two rounds. He knocked out Bobby Brown of Lowell, Mass., in two rounds and stopped Billy Leonard of Syracuse in one round. Jones is a two-handed fighter who carries his punch in the right hand.

Light is a favorite here. He dropped a close ten round decision to Young Jack Thompson at the Mills stadium last summer. He won two decisions over Jack McCarthy of the west side and has defeated several other well known welterweights. Both fighters tapered off training yesterday at the Mullen gym and are well within the weight limit.

Mike Mandoli, the St. Paul heavyweight, and George Gemas of Philadelphia will mingle in another ten rounder. Mandoli has displayed his wares to Chicagoans on three occasions, while Gemas will be remembered as the fighter who gave Les Marriner a lot of trouble in Peoria recently.

The two ten rounders will be supported by four bouts of five rounds each. Roger O'Brien of Chicago and Angelo Paglia of Duluth will meet in the opener at 145 pounds. Danny Delmont of the west side and Johnny Ciccone of Duluth will tangle in another five rounder at 125 pounds. The other fights bring together Billy Moon of Davenport and Russell Le Roy of Fargo, N. D., and Al Greenfield of the west side and Eddie Memo of Hibbing, Minn. The show opens at 8:15 o'clock.

O'MALLEY WINS BY K. O.

Tom O'Malley knocked out Jim Marriner in the third round of their six round bout at the Empress theater, Chicago, last night. In the semi-windup Sam Parker and George Dougherty fought to a draw in six rounds.

Phelan Gives Purdue Eleven an Unexpected Day of Rest

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 22.—[Special.]—Purdue's band and freshman football squad took the center of the stage here this afternoon as Coach Jimmy Phelan gave his varsity squad an unexpected layoff.

Phelan sent the squad through strenuous scrimmages sessions the first three days of this week, and apparently tonight that there would be plenty of room available in the general admission section of the stadium. All reserved seats have been disposed of for a month.

While the varsity enjoyed its unexpected vacation, the freshman squad wound up its fall training with a regulation game that was ended under the glare of flood lights and Spot Emrick's musicians went through their next to last rehearsal of the intricate formations to be used in the battle of bands before the game and between halves.

Indiana's squad, bent on annexing a year's lease on the Old Oaken Bucket for the first time since it was adopted in 1925 as the symbol of victory between the two schools, will arrive here tomorrow in time to work out in the stadium in the afternoon.

Saturday morning will start the steady stream of fans into the city. A special train will bring Indiana students and its band shortly before noon, while other trains will arrive at intervals from Indianapolis. Enterprising Indianapolis airport operators are planning to run planes between Indianapolis and Lafayette.

Ticket Manager C. S. Doan announced tonight that there would be plenty of room available in the general admission section of the stadium. All reserved seats have been disposed of for a month.

HOOSIERS LEAVE TODAY

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 22.—[Special.]—A squad of 35 Indiana players will leave at noon tomorrow for Lafayette, arriving in time for a drill in Purdue's stadium in the afternoon. Special trains with the Indiana band and rooters will leave Saturday.

In practice today Coach Page again stressed tackling, which has been one of the Crimson team's weaknesses. Baxter and Mankowski, reserve centers, were placed in the first string squad. Both have proved worthy of an "A" team berth.

While Mankowski was captaining the varsity "B" team to victory over Kentucky two weeks ago Baxter saw service against Minnesota.

Indiana's pep session and bonfire was staged on the campus tonight and attracted a large crowd. Short talks were given by Page, the two captains and members of the athletic board.

Michigan to Shift Cragin for Iowa Game

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 22.—[Special.]—Coach Tad Wieman today found an answer to Michigan's line problem for the Iowa game. He announced that Cragin would play as offensive right tackle and defensive left guard, the first time since the Yost regime that a player has drawn an assignment of the like.

This Michigan strategy is construed as a high tribute to the high esteem in which Schleusner, Iowa left tackle, is held hereabouts. Schleusner is reported to be the greatest tackle Iowa has had since the day of Duke Slater, and by juggling his line Coach Wieman will have two players on the star of the Old Gold and Black forward wall.

Some of the other possible alternatives which the Michigan coaching staff rejected in favor of the one finally decided upon included schemes to transfer Michigan's star tackle, Otto Pommmering to the other side of the line and to use Michigan's best trust, consisting of Hubert and Squier, who average 225 pounds, against Schleusner.

The final arrangement, however, utilizes the consistently aggressive Cragin and also prevents the disruption of the excellent team play of the guard and tackle combinations.

The Michigan line, from end to end, will weigh as follows: Truskowski, 180; Pommmering, 178; Poe, 185; Boyard, 190; Steinko, 185; Cragin, 185; Draveling, 200. Iowa will have a considerable advantage in this respect, at least from tackle to tackle, which benefit is expected to be of great avail if the game is played under the present weather conditions.

VINNY RICHARDS PLAYS KOZELUH HERE TONIGHT

Vincent Richards and Karel Kozeluh, professional tennis stars, will make their second appearance in Chicago tonight when they clash in a match at the Rainbo fronton at 8:15 o'clock. They are on the last leg of an international tour, which will be concluded in the east next month.

Kozeluh, world's pro champion, is regarded by tennis students as the most resourceful player in the game today. Although Richards has been improving steadily, he seldom has been able to defeat Kozeluh.

Richards and Kozeluh are both of the Old Gold and Black forward wall.

Some of the other possible alternatives which the Michigan coaching staff rejected in favor of the one finally decided upon included schemes to transfer Michigan's star tackle, Otto Pommmering to the other side of the line and to use Michigan's best trust, consisting of Hubert and Squier, who average 225 pounds, against Schleusner.

BROKERS' LOANS OVER 5 BILLIONS, REPORTS REVEAL

BY O. A. MATHER.

The roaring stock market passed another milestone yesterday. For the first time in history, the weekly report on brokers' loans issued by the Federal Reserve Board showed the $5,000,000,000 mark passed.

The event fulfills predictions made by several big operators several months ago. Particularly, it recalls the prophecy of William C. Durant that such loans not only would go beyond five billion dollars, but eventually might reach double that amount. As to the extent of speculation, it also was predicted daily sales on the New York stock exchange would reach the 7,000,000 share mark. That amount has occurred. It also was predicted that eventually the daily turnover might reach 10,000,000 shares.

Five Five Billion Mark.

Loans to brokers and dealers in securities by the New York Federal Reserve member banks on Wednesday stood at $5,127,132,000, an increase of $176,315,000 over a week ago and marking the seventh successive week to show expansion. The current peak total also is $5,127,132,000 over a year ago.

The present report shows that the New York banks have reversed their policy of keeping their own loans down, a policy which attended the efforts of the Federal Reserve Board to check speculation and the various constant warnings against the granting of excessive credit for speculation.

In fact, the major part of the last week's increase in loans came from the New York banks, whose loans for their own account increased $151,555,000. It should be said, however, that their own loans, which now total $1,125,525,000, are still $42,955,000 below a year ago. In the meantime, the Federal Reserve Board's total figure of $5,127,132,000 is $1,750,794,000 above a year ago.

Rest of Bill Market.

It is the credit offered by the big corporations and wealthy individuals that has been keeping the bull stock market going at full blast. Such lenders now have $2,280,416,000 placed in the call loan market, which marks an increase of $464,648,000 over a week ago and is $1,230,589,900 more than a year ago. Therefore, these lenders have more than doubled their loans for speculative purposes in the last year.

The stock market swept upward and maintained its terrific pace yesterday in spite of the fact that a large increase in brokers' loans was expected. Whether or not the fact will have any influence today is doubtful, especially as no change in the 6 1/2 per cent call loan rate appears imminent and the New York Reserve Bank has not made any change in its 5 1/2 per cent discount rate.

A week ago, the stock market shot upward when the brokers' loan report showed an increase of less than $2,000,000, removing fears of a large gain. Then it was said that either outright

COPPER CORPORATIONS PASS ON PROPERTY TO STOCKHOLDERS

Further reflection of the recovery of the copper industry developed yesterday in the dividend features of the day.

The Green Cananea Copper Company increased its annual rate from $4 to $6 with the announcement of a quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share. The Inspiration Consolidated Copper Company resumed the payment of dividends with the declaration of a quarterly payment of 75 cents a share on the common stock. The last dividend was 25 cents a share paid in April of 1927. The directors explained that this dividend places the stock on a 4 1/2 annual basis compared with $2 paid from 1923 to 1926. The Nichols Copper Company voted an initial disbursement of 45 cents a share on the class "A" common stock. The stockholders were recently given four shares of the class "A" for each share of 7 per cent preferred.

The Traders Investment Corporation declared an extra dividend of $30 a share. An extra of 75 cents a share was authorized by the By-Products Copper Corporation and the American Copper Company of Allegheny county voted an extra of $1 a share. Laboratory Products Corporation declared a 3 per cent stock dividend and the Kimberly-Clark Corporation announced a 2 per cent stock dividend.

—Purchases of large amounts of stock or loans arranged through nonreserve banks was indicated. Neither of these arguments, however, can be made to apply to last night's report.

Banks Reduce Reserve Borrowings.

Other elements of the general credit situation were generally cheerful yesterday. The weekly statement of the Federal Reserve system, issued last night, shows further slackening in the commercial demand for credit and an accompanying reduction in member bank borrowings from the reserve banks.

In the last week, loans have declined $57,530,000 and open market bills purchased increased only $5,754,000. Government securities increased $3,715,000. Deposits and note circulation receded $27,735,000 and $15,416,000, respectively. Gold and total reserves expanded $5,335,000 and $11,949,000, respectively. The ratio of reserves to liabilities rose to 63.4 from 67.4 per cent a week ago.

Index of Gold Checked.

At New York, loans declined $24,645,000, bills remained about stationary and deposits increased $3,395,000. Reserves expanded $45,225,000 and the reserve ratio rose to 75 from 73.3 per cent. At Chicago, loans and bills increased $12,264,000 and $3,232,000, respectively, while deposits receded $4,857,000. Reserves declined $25,815,000, and the reserve ratio fell to 72.4 from 75.5 per cent.

Heading of money rates as the result of an influx of gold to this country appears less likely than recently. Gold imports in the last week totaled $7,125,000 but were offset by the shipment of $13,015,000 in gold for shipment abroad. The recovery in sterling exchange rates also precluded further large shipments of English gold to this country and a premium on the Canadian dollar makes probable the shipment of American gold to Canada.

TOPICS OF FINANCE AND TRADE

In a code of trade practices, adopted by substantially the entire cotton wrapping twine industry, guarantees against price declines in orders or blanket contracts are held unbound. Walker D. Hines, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, announced the code.

Spang, Chalfant & Co. of Pittsburgh has booked an order for 5,000 tons of 6 1/2 inch seamless pipe, about 100 miles, for the oil line from Tulsa, Okla., to Lockport, Ill., to be built by the Texas Corporation and the Empire Gas and Fuel company. The rest of the order, which was for 12 1/2 inch pipe, went to A. O. Smith company of Milwaukee. Spang-Chalfant's plant is now operating at 80 per cent of capacity in the seamless department and 85 in the welded mills.

Harrison's Orange Huts, Inc., report sales for the first ten months of 1928 of $2,042,905.14, as compared with $947,550.80 for the same period of 1927. Monroe Harrison, president, states that light lunch sales have more than taken up the slack in the orange huts business during the cooler months. As a consequence, earnings for the fiscal year ending Dec. 31 will show a large increase over the $116,818.25 netted in 1927.

Nelmer Brothers, Inc., chain department stores, have closed loans for seven months.

BONDS STRONGER WITH RECOVERY IN STOCK MARKET

New York, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Trading slowly increased in volume on the bond market today as stock prices recovered their strength. Speculative issues were responsible for most of the related activity, with a few convertibles paralleling the advance of their respective stocks.

Liquid Carbonic 6s again provided the feature, soaring 10 points to a new high price of 205 and recovering after a slump to 195. Andes Copper 7s also were lifted to a new high at 220, but closed fractionally lower. Anaconda 7s moved up 6 points to a level just below the record price. Kayser & Co. 5 1/2s advanced about 4 points to a new high at 180. Oils advanced in sympathy with oil stocks, Pan-American Petroleum 6s reaching a new top at 100, up more than 10 points. Patho Exchange 7s, Cuba Cane Sugar 7s, the Wickes Spencer Steel issues, both of which established new peaks at levels 3 points or more higher. U. S. Rubber 5s, and Chicago Union Terminal 4 1/2s were active at higher levels. Public Service of New Jersey 4 1/2s were among the few strong utilities.

Life Companies See Prosperity in Policy Sales

New York, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Ordinary life insurance sales in the United States totaled $78,472,000 in October, a gain of 14 per cent over October, 1927. The Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau of Hartford, Conn., which represents 80 companies having in force 88 per cent of the legal reserve life insurance in the United States sees prosperity in these figures for all sections of the country. Sales for the last ten months are 4 per cent ahead of the 1927 record.

Seventy-five per cent of Raytheon stock has been deposited in a voting trust formed for the purpose of insuring continuance of the present management and policies.

Large scale buying of lead and zinc featured business in nonferrous metals last week, although copper sold in close to average volume. Engineering and Mining Journal reports. Tinplate interests were good buyers of tin for both prompt and forward delivery at advancing prices. Platinum and quicksilver were unsettled with no quotational change.

John A. Bush, president of the Brown Shoe company, stated that since Nov. 1 orders for staple footwear have improved. Over $8,000,000 worth of new business was shipped and billed during the last six days of the fiscal year, or practically equal to the amount of accounts receivable.

The Van Camp Packing company has issued notice to holders of its first mortgage 8 per cent sinking fund bonds, dated April 1, 1921, that it has called for redemption on Dec. 31, next, all outstanding bonds of this issue at 107 1/2 and interest.

The Bank of Montreal reports the general level of production, distribution and consumption in Canada is high, although some seasonal decline in industrial activity is apparent. Building construction is active; and mining of coal and ores larger.

Holders of 34 per cent of common stock of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum corporation have deposited shares under the plan for the formation of the Radio-Keith-Orpheum corporation. Mr. Claire L. Barnes, President, summarizes his letter to us as follows:

BUSINESS: The Houdaille Corporation has been organized under the laws of the State of Michigan to acquire the capital stock or all of the assets and business, including good will, of the Houde Engineering Corporation (a New York corporation).

The Houde Engineering Corporation is manufacturing the Houdaille Hydraulic Shock Absorber, which is at the present time installed as standard equipment by many of the most important motor car manufacturers in the industry. The Houdaille Hydraulic Shock Absorber is a double acting shock absorbing device which greatly increases the riding quality of all automobiles.

The Houde Engineering Corporation started with an initial investment of about $60,000 and has been built up to its present size and commanding position in the industry almost entirely from earnings. The year 1928 is the first year that the company has been manufacturing shock absorbers on a quantity production basis and selling their product to manufacturers to be installed as standard equipment. Heretofore the company's product has been sold principally to distributors and dealers in automobile accessories. In addition to their present customers, the company expects to greatly increase its sales in the year 1929.

EARNINGS: Certified net earnings of the Houde Engineering Corporation have been as follows: For the year ended December 31, 1926, $179,481.29; For the year ended December 31, 1927, $141,535.12; Net earnings for the nine months ended September 30, 1928, (which is the first nine months of the company's operations on a quantity production basis), $944,935.10.

Earnings as above stated are after giving effect to elimination of (1) charges for royalties and patent amortization as a result of purchase of patents and writing down patent valuations to $1.00, (2) non-recurring interest, and (3) non-recurring income (net $45,552.89 in 1926, $29,314.83 in 1927 and $61,796.58 for nine months of 1928); and adjustment of Federal Income Taxes to the current rate of 12 1/2%.

Net earnings as above stated for the first nine months of 1928 amount to $8.74 per share on the Houdaille Corporation Class "A" stock to be outstanding and $5.01 per share on the Class "B" stock after Class "A" dividends.

DIVIDENDS: Dividends on the Class "A" Convertible Preference Stock will be payable quarterly on the first day of January, April, July and October at the rate of $2.50 per share. The first dividend will be payable on January 1, 1929, for the period from November 16th, which is the date of incorporation of the company. It is the intention of the directors to authorize the payment of dividends on the Class "B" stock at the annual rate of $1.50 per share.

MANAGEMENT: The Management of the corporation will be headed by Mr. Claire L. Barnes as President.

Their Education Assured

WHILE he lived and remained in good health, his income was ample to give his children the comforts of life and a good education. But he wanted to make sure that this condition would continue in case of his death. The income from his investments would not be sufficient.

The solution of this problem was as simple as it was satisfactory. How it was done is told in our new booklet, "Ten Unusual Stories from Real Life," a copy of which will be sent to you upon request.

New York, Nov. 22.—[Special].—New York stock market plunged ahead with unrestrained fury today. The total of transactions whirled up around the 6,000,000 share mark—$3,370,000 to be exact.

Again prices went up—anywhere from 10 to 50 points. The market was again overworked by the possibilities of overland routes, ran up a new high record for a stock exchange near this time to $30,000.

This was $5,000 more than the old record of yesterday. Wall street is wondering where it will end.

The improvement was due to the initiation of the new system of eliminating all volume sales from the tape except in the first half hour of trading.

Announcements of the volume of sales were made only at intervals of five minutes, the first one at 10:30 o'clock.

Under this arrangement the day between the tape and the floor operations was scarcely over more than 15 minutes. Toward the last, however, a fresh flood of selling orders poured into the overworked market and when the final gong sounded on trading, the ticker fell 24 minutes behind.

Previous Losses Recovered.

Most of the active issues of the list today regained in full the losses they suffered in yesterday's slump and some of them advanced 10 to 20 points. The market was not limited to any particular section of the list.

Wright Aero closed 49 points higher at 270 and Currier was up more than 15 points to 155. Radio was up 10 points higher and Victor Talking Machine 16. Montgomery Ward gained 23 points to 427 and Midland Steel Products gained 21 points.

As on other crackling days of this "Hoover prosperity" market, the news developments of the day had little to do with price movements. Money renewed at 4 1/2 per cent and was in good supply. Little concern was evinced over the brokerage loan figures to be made public after the close of business.

Copper, Aluminas Advance.

Copper, airplane and motor stock took turns in setting the pace of today's activities. In the morning it was copper. Virtually all of them shared in the improvement. Anaconda achieved a net gain of 4 1/2, General Cananea went up 1, Inspiration bettered its previous position by 4 1/2, and Kennecott gained a point.

The sharp rise in Victor Talking Machine revived talk of a possible merger between that corporation and the Radio Corporation. Radio was heavily bought and advanced 15 points, only to lose 10 points of its gain in the later trading.

Chrysler led the advance in the motor division, closing at 130 1/2, up 5 points, and its highest for the day. General Motors was up a point at the close, while Packard showed a gain of nearly five points. Hudson was up 3, Hupp almost as much, while Studebaker had bettered its showing by an even point.

Oil Shares in Demand.

Various oil issues were in demand. Superior Oil Development Co. advanced 15 points, rising to the best level of the year, at 135, up 13 1/2. Demand for this stock is said to have come mainly from Fisher Brothers and affiliated interests.

Stores 31 was weak, down nearly 10 points in the first three hours of trading. Big earnings for the company were predicted.

CHICAGO CURE EXCHANGE

Hall Printing, Canadian Marconi, and Federal Electric were swept up to new highs in a general forward movement on the Chicago curb. Hall at 36 was up 5 points for the day.

Harrison's Orange Hut was a feature. On a turnover of nearly 5,000 shares it staged a 5 point advance from an early low. Sales for the first ten months of 1928 were $2,045,000, 14 more than 119 per cent ahead of the same period last year and the company expects 1929 earnings to show a large increase over the 1927 net of $116,319.23.

Polymet, Nebl, and Temple showed gains of 1 to more than 2 points. Cox Stores 31 was weak, down nearly 10 points in the first three hours of trading. Big earnings for the company were predicted.

WHEAT AND CORN SLIGHTLY OFF AT MARKET'S CLOSE

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

While the wheat market showed considerable early activity, prices advanced sharply to bring in very selling orders, the finish was easy with prices unchanged to 1/2c lower on December. There was heavy buying of the latter by shorts. Closing spreads between that delivery and May showed the spread to 1/4c. Corn showed an easy undertone and finished 1/2c to 3/4c lower. Oats were unchanged, rye 1/2c lower to 3/4c higher.

December wheat at the top was at 11 1/2c but finished at 11 1/4c, 1/2c on profit taking. May reached 11 1/2c on the bulge and was 11 1/4c at the close. December corn showed an advance of 1/2c to 3/4c and May reached 11 1/2c, a new high, with the close 1/4c under the top, while May was 11 1/4c, 1/2c, or the same as Wednesday, and May rye closed 11 1/4c, or 1/2c below the day's top.

Upturn in wheat was attributed to shorts in December taking fright over the persistent buying of the winter month against sales of May. So far liquidation by longs has not been up to expectations. Houses with eastern and northwestern connections sold freely on the advance. Considerable local pressure also developed. Winnipeg was weak and 1/2c lower, the latter on November which lost its premium over December. Cash wheat there was in slow demand.

Hot Winds in Argentina. Private cables telling of hot winds and lack of rainfall in southern Argentina attracted early attention but were belied by later reports. Buenos Aires closed 1/4c lower. Liverpool closed unchanged to 1/4c lower. Broome's Australian agent estimates the wheat crop at a minimum of 100,000,000 bu or 5,000,000 bu above the recent government returns. Export sales in all positions were placed at 500,000 bu, largely Manitoba. Favorable weather prevailed over the corn belt, and while country offerings were small there was persistent selling of futures by scattered longs. The undertone was slow although May touched 11 1/2c, equaling the crop's best figure, the uptick being in sympathy with wheat. Wheat was bought against sales of corn to close spreads.

As a result of price advances in prices during the last two days Europe has canceled 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 bu corn purchased for forward shipment, according to seabornd reports. Local spot sales were generally steady.

New High on Oats. Cash and commission houses were on the buying side of oats with March and May selling at a new high, May touching 11c. Longs were the best sellers. Rye was unsteady, with commission houses selling early only to take the buying side later. The market eased off at the close in sympathy with wheat. No export business was reported.

The dairyman who makes money producing milk is the one who carefully studies the grain and hay situation, considering the cows' ration to take advantage of feed prices. This winter the wisest dairyman is using an abundance of corn, oats and barley. There is a big bushelage of all three of these crops stored in or near the big Chicago dairy belt.

Experts are advising farmers to use hay and corn extensively as possible. R. S. Rhodes of the Illinois state agricultural college says that while those grains should make up the bulk of the ration they are relatively low in protein and must be supplemented with other feeds. He suggests soybeans, linseed oil meal, cottonseed meal, bran or gluten feed.

Rhodes in telling how to use these feeds says a good ration, and that the roughage is partly legume and partly grain, should contain 150 pounds of corn and cob meal or barley, 200 pounds of oats, 50 pounds of soybean meal and 50 pounds of wheat. Another good one for the dairy cow of roughage is 500 pounds of corn and cob meal or barley, 200 pounds of oats, 100 pounds of bran and 125 lbs. linseed oil meal. These two mixtures can be fed at the rate of 3½ pounds for each gallon of milk produced a cow.

Rhodes recommends that the legume hays are fed, a grain meal of 250 pounds of corn and cob meal or barley, 175 pounds of oats, 100 pounds of soybean meal and 150 pounds of gluten feed. The rate of 2½ to 3 pounds feed per gallon of milk produced.

When the roughage is legume, he advises a mixture of corn and cob meal or barley, 500 pounds; oats, 200 pounds; and linseed oil meal or beans, 75 pounds, fed at the rate of 3½ pounds for each gallon of milk produced.

This Is the Season for Parties, and for Still More Parties

BY THALIA

Parties, parties, parties—many of them all kinds and sizes are being given all the time, and it's worth while to get a thrill out of their respective festivities than will little Anne, daughter of the John Jay restaurant, and the two dozen guests at her birthday party this afternoon. After is to celebrate Miss Anne's birthday and is to be in the nature of an early supper party at the restaurant.

Following the repeat, to be served in the rose and gray straw room, the party will proceed upstairs to the Bryn Mawr apartment building in the 900 North Michigan avenue apartment building to be amused by a ventriloquist's musical gramophone. The guests, who are the cases in which Anne resides at the University School for Girls, include Anne May Henry, Margaret Reed, Margaret Mitchell, and Dorothy Rogers.

A more adult party that is evidently going to have its own element of gaiety is the dance that a trio of the marrieds, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Fowles, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Fauntleroy, and Dr. and Mrs. Ted Proxmire, are giving this evening at Knollwood country club. They've asked 135 guests.

The after the theater party is one of the most popular of this year's parties. Mr. and Mrs. Evan Evans gave one last night at the Ambassador hotel and Dr. and Mrs. Shirley Munns (Mrs. Van Gordon) are having one this evening at their residence at 87 East Division street.

Miss Betty McNair is giving a dinner party this evening for Miss Virginia Wallace, who is to be married on Thanksgiving day to Walter S. Mannan. Miss McNair is to be one of Miss Wallace's bridesmaids.

And still another, Mrs. E. Crane Wilson of Evanston is giving a tea and dinner for her granddaughter, Miss Dorothy Wilson, this evening. Many of the young Evanstonians who are to attend the Junior league party of that suburb next Wednesday evening are to give dinner parties before going on to the festivities at the Evanston Country club. Miss Betty McNair is giving one for Miss Charlotte Picher, a debutante, and other guests include Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley K. Pierce, Miss Anna Catherine Hurd, Mrs. Theresa Gross Thomas, and Mr. and Mrs. David G. Sutcliffe. Miss Alice Judson is general chairman of the ball, the proceeds of which are to help fulfill the league's various pledges to charity.

The annual sale and exhibition of Peoria industries of Berea college is to take place at the Blackstone beginning next Monday and lasting through Wednesday. Miss Helen Drake is a member of the committee sponsoring the sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Morton of 20 East Oak street and Miss Suesette Morton are in New York City for a brief stay.

Mrs. Noble B. Judah of Lake Forest, Ill., will open their winter social season to night with an informal dance in the school gymnasium. The committee on arrangements consists of Miss Lucy C. Meyers, Miss Harriet O'Malley, and Miss Kathryn Walsh.

Rosary college is a school for girls conducted by the Dominican nuns. Miss L. S. Meyers.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Simpson of 44 Lake Shore drive have returned from a stay of several months in California. Mrs. Simpson is giving her usual fall series of luncheons.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Selig who have been staying at the Hotel Belmont since their return from Europe, are leaving next week to their apartment at 1114 Lincoln Park West.

Church Concert Tonight.

The Evangelical Lutheran church, 3400 Broadway, is celebrating the closing of its fortieth anniversary by a "concert" to be presented by the choir, as volunteer amateur concert, this evening at 8 o'clock.

PATTERNS BY CLOTHIE

(Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

This charming dress is made with a belt, collar that reaches almost to the neckline, forming a deep V front, which is completed with an inset vest, creating a slender effect. The skirt is box pleated across the front, giving grace to the hemline. Printed velvet combines with plain serge crepe, with the binding in the deepest tone of the print. Flat silk collar, georgette crepe, and crepe Elinette and sheer woolen are smart suggestions.

The pattern, 3393, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires yards of 46 inch material, with 3/4 yard of 26 inch contrasting and 3/4 yards of binding.

Presbyterians Delay on Adding Women as Elders and Ministers

The general council of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., meeting at the Fourth Presbyterian church, Michigan boulevard and Delaware avenue, postponed action on admission of women to eldership and its ministry. Action may be taken at the next meeting in February in Philadelphia.

Practically all day yesterday was spent in conference and discussion with a delegation of 15 women representing the synods throughout the entire country. Those from Chicago were Elizabeth Neely, 5713 Blackstone avenue; Mrs. Lincoln M. Cox, 6416 Blackstone avenue; and Mrs. Albert Parker, University of Chicago.

About 60 per cent of the membership of the Presbyterian church are women and yet they have no voice in presbytery or synod, nor do they have any part in formulating the policy nor in planning the work of the council.

Dr. Hugh Kelso Walker, new moderator, who is from Los Angeles, Cal., favored the women's arguments. Dr. Robert E. Speer was appointed chairman of a special committee that will report on the subject in February.

The council also voted a benevolence budget of $12,000,000 for the coming year, of which Illinois is to raise $457,000. The entire budget was to be divided as follows: Women's activities, $2,708,000; national missions, $3,949,000; foreign missions, $3,067,000; Christian education, $1,638,000; pensions, $650,000.

French Dramatist

Thinks Marriage at 30 Has a Chance

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Marry at 30 and you will not have to use up so much leisure repenting as if you marry young," is the philosophy of Eugene Brieux, author of "Damaged Goods."

Brieux believes that your chances of winning in the game of marriage if you marry early are equal to your chance of breaking the bank at Monte Carlo.

Brieux's conclusion is one based purely on the economic angle. Whether 30 relieves the financial strain as successfully as our pragmatist would have us infer is questionable. Folk seem to be rushing in equally mad haste from avenue and by-street to have the Gordian Knot severed. You can hardly read the social columns with their overdraft on parentheses to explain who Mrs. Tipstover was before she married Tip and who she was before that and that again without wondering if money as a divorce panacea isn't just another of those futile attempts to present a workable solution.

Of course, every man is entitled to his own opinion and to at least one preferred attempt to rescue the crippled matrimonial ship. Why not Eugene Brieux?

"Youths," he says in an interview, "who have not yet found their vocation, who still are floundering from job to job, or out of economic fear settling into the rut of a career for which they are not equipped, soon discover that divorce is difficult and expensive and that a wife chosen in haste can become an impediment."

Brieux's sympathy is with the women. "Forced to live in straitened circumstances, they find themselves cut off from the company they are accustomed to keep and are forced to associate with other young women in the same plight as they."

If You Would Avoid Thick Ankles Buy Shoes with Care

A girl was explaining her thickening ankles as due to the shoes she'd been wearing the last year. After her departure another young woman said: "Did you ever hear anything so silly in your life as blaming shoes for thick ankles?"

But you can blame thick, thickening, and thickening ankles on shoes. In fact, a great many of the clumsy ankles seen on women are acquired through faulty footwear. Too little attention is given to footwear for girls. You may note, if you have an eye for every little comparison, that boys aren't nearly so burdened with thick ankles.

Boys' footwear gives support to the ankles. They're not built on lasts that restrain the joints in their natural movements nor impede the circulation, as is so frequently the case with feminine footwear. The effect of the resulting weakness is akin to that of sprain.

There are women whose feet conform to high heels and they may wear them without any noticeable bad effects. But a girl whose foot conformation is such that she should not wear high heels but persists in doing so is likely to "turn" her ankle. Repeated little accidents of the kind gradually result in thickened ligaments, and so the ankles are enlarged.

A simple treatment consists of wearing a bandage. But in order to make a bandage effective it must be properly adjusted. It must be wound around the ankle tight enough to hold, but not enough to cause discomfort. The bandage must lie flat and smooth, each turn slightly overlapping the other. You must carry it down across the foot to the base of the toes, pass it up the instep, reversing each turn of the bandage. So important is the manner of bandaging that I think it worth the money spent to have a nurse or physician give a first lesson.
